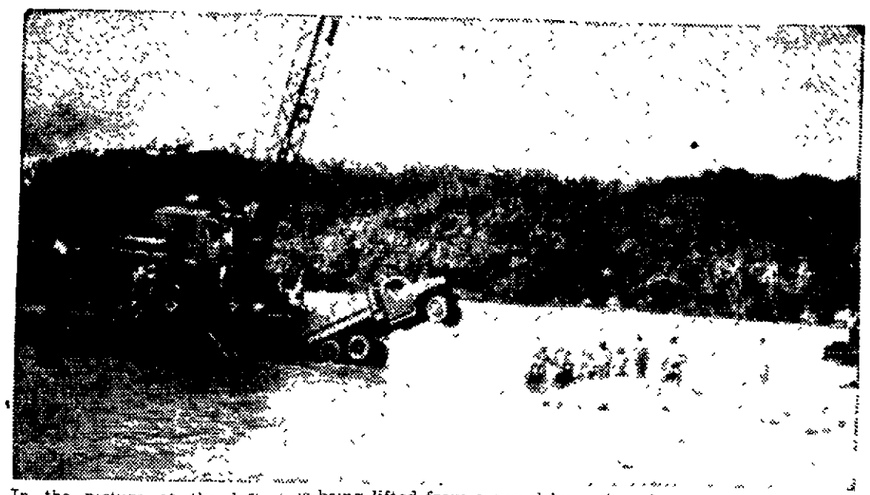
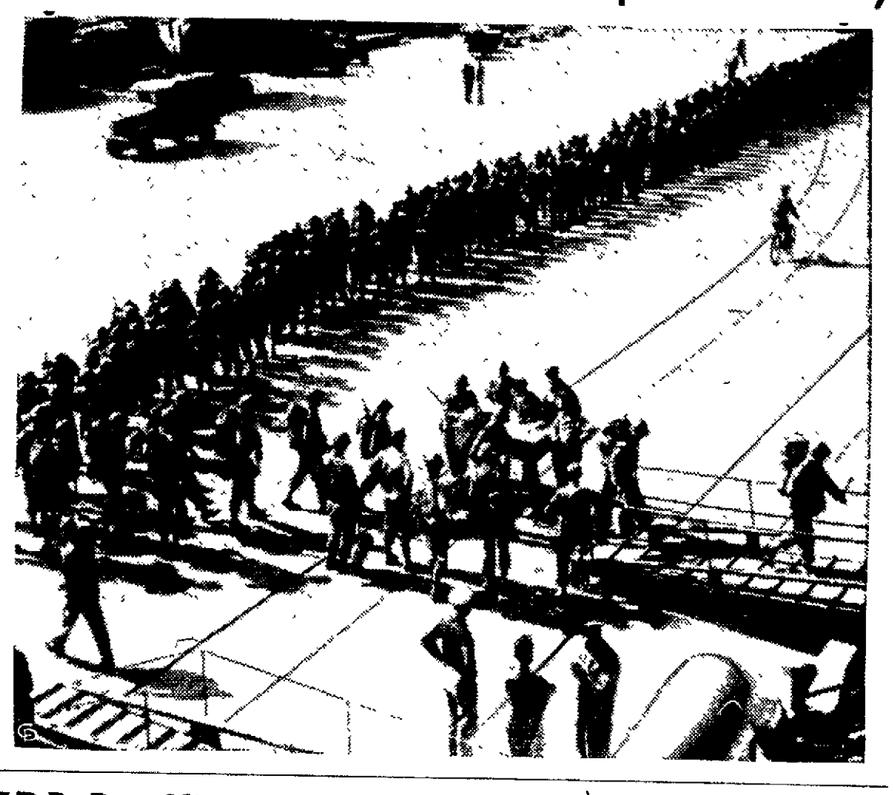
CLAIM U. S. SOLOMON VICTORY

The Marines Get There and Land -- Here Are More Troops on Way





In the picture at the left, U S marines are shown landing on an un-named South Sea island, ready for action. A truck is being lifted from a vessel by a derrick. And in the picture at the right are more tough, hardened United States troops taking off for action aboard an American transport vessel, reinforcements, possibly, for the battling marines now driving the Japanese slowly but surely out of the Solomon islands.

Navy Moves In, Struck Plant to Re-Open Today

Admiral Takes Possession of Bayonne War Industry, Calls Second Shift Employes to Report as Usual.

(By United Press)

BAYONNE, N. J.—Rear Admiral Harold G. Bowen, U. S. N., announced today that he has taken possession of the General Cable corporation plant, closed by a three-day strike, and that it will reopen at 4 p. m.

Naval seizure of the plant was ordered by President Roosevelt after strikers had refused to accept a War Labor Board ruling that they were not entitled to a 10-cents hourly wage increase

"I have taken over possession of the plant in accordance with the president's proclamation," Rear Admiral Bowen said, "and the plant will reopen at 4 p. m. today for the regular second shift."

Thereafter, he said, normal operations will continue.

A notice announcing that the navy had taken over was posted throughout the plant and included the warning: "Any interference with the operation of this plant is an offense against the United States."

While the navy was in charge of the plant, soldiers were assigned to guard it and army officers assisted Admiral Bowen in an inspection of the area.

Army and navy officers entered the plant early today A half dozen soldiers, wearing steel helmets and carrying service pistols, took stations outside the plant,

R-42 RESURFACE JOB TO START

Materials Released, Asphalt To Be Applied Next Week, Contractor Says.

With the release of necessary road materials by the federal government, resurfacing of U. S route 42 around Central park and eastward to the Ashland hill will be started early next week. Carl H Stander, president of the Mansfield Asphalt Paving company, said today

Workmen began preliminary operations around the park yesterday afternoon, but actual resurfacing work is not expected to start before Monday or Tuesday.

The Mansfield Asphalt Paving company, only bidder on the project, was awarded the contract at approximately $67,000.

Glad Tidings! No Ban on Mailing Of Yule Packages

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)— Merry Christmas from the ODT!

Despite the transportation problem, there won't be any government restrictions on Christmas packages next Yuletide, nor on Christmas cards.

That was the answer of the Office of Defense Transportation yesterday when government agencies were asked whether carloads of Christmas mail still would be permitted to roll across the country as in the days when munitions and airplane parts weren't competing for space.

The postoffice department said it hadn't thought about the matter yet, but ODT already had delved into the problem and come up with the answer given above.

The bundles for soldiers and kinfolk will move mainly in boxcars, ODT said, and it appears there will be "a comfortable supply" of such cars even though "open-top" cars, like coal cars and flatcars are in direst need. Christmas cards travel in railway express cars, also plentiful enough.

DEFENSE DATE

Athens Council Wants Exclusive Rights To Thursday.

ATHENS—(U.P.)—The Athens local civilian defense council said today that scheduling of meetings or other events on Thursday nights will be regarded as unpatriotic for the duration of the war.

The council requested all residents of Athens to keep Thursday nights free for civilian defense activities.

FALLS TO DEATH

Laborer At Bucyrus Fatally Injured In Hay Chute.

BUCYRUS — Falling 14 feet through a hay chute at the Bucyrus Livestock commission yards early today, John Loyer, 66, a laborer, suffered fatal injuries.

A fellow-worker, Sylvester Easterday, found Loyer lying at the foot of the chute when he came to work at 7 a. m. Loyer was scheduled to start work at 6 a. m.

Easterday told Bucyrus police that Loyer apparently struck his head in falling. No official coroner's report has been filed as yet.

URGES TAX ON OUR SPENDING

Yale Professor Testifies In Senate Committee Hearing On War Financing.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—Professor Irving Fisher, of Yale university urged the senate finance committee today to tax spendings and exempt savings.

"In war time we are shooting away our savings and cannot afford to tax them away besides," the well known economist declared.

"Put a special tax on that part of personal incomes which is spent," he recommended, "and reduce (or still better) abolish all taxes on that part of incomes (whether personal or corporate) which is saved."

Under Fisher's proposal, special graduated taxes would be levied on personal spendings above a specified minimum exemption, say $500 for single individuals and $1,000 for married couples.

The white-goateed professor suggested a 5 per cent tax on the spendings of an individual up to $5,000 ($10,000 for a married couple), 10 per cent on the next $5,000 increment for individuals (the next $10,000 for married couples) and so on in 5 per cent

Auto Graveyards Produce 235 Tons Of Steel In Month

Richland county automobile graveyards produced 235 tons of scrap steel in the past month dropping the county behind other northcentral Ohio counties in the salvaging of old cars for war materials, A. M. Robinson, district salvage chief, announced today.

Ashland county's junked cars produced 555 tons of materials during the same period, while Crawford county reported 638 tons and Huron county, 407 tons. The Knox county total for the month was 241 tons.

Meanwhile, the War Production board's scrap materials campaign in Richland county had produced more than 100,000 pounds of metal and old rubber today, according to Carl L. Stough, county salvage chairman.

Wave of Bicycle Thefts Hits City, 2 More Reported Stolen

A wave of bicycle thefts, the most serious in years, has been sweeping the city this month, Police Chief Thomas M. Bell said today.

An average of one bicycle a day has been stolen during the first 13 days of the month including two stolen yesterday, one of which was recovered.

Of the 13 bicycles stolen in August, eight were recovered by the police department, and Chief Bell said he expected the rest to "turn up". Most of them have been taken while parked in front of downtown theaters or in city parks.

The chief expressed the opinion that "most of the time the wheels are probably just taken for a lark by someone not having a bicycle and wanting to ride around town for an hour or so. "They are usually discarded after a short time," the chief said. Ordinarily they are found as far away from a residence as possible.

Bicycles taken last night belonged to William Bell, Mansfield R. D. 4, and D. T. Reese, 130 Glenwood Heights. The Reese wheel, valued at $10, was recovered today, but the one belonging to Bell, valued at $35, is still missing.

FDR Reaffirms Adherence to Charter on Its Anniversary

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—On the first anniversary of the signing of the Atlantic charter, President Roosevelt reaffirmed today his faith in its eight cardinal principles as the basis for a better and happier world "when victory comes."

The chief executive and Prime Minister Winston Churchill of England penned their names on the historic declaration in a secret meeting at sea exactly a year ago, when the United States still watched the war from the sidelines. Since then, all the United Nations have accepted its enunciation of post-war aims as a foundation upon which a permanent peace must rest.

"When victory comes," Mr. Roosevelt asserted in a message to Churchill today, "we shall stand shoulder to shoulder in seeking to nourish the great ideals for which we fight. It is a worthwhile battle. It will be so recognized through all the ages, even amid the unfortunate peoples who follow false gods today.

"We reaffirm our principles. They will bring us to a happier world."

These, in brief, are the charter's eight principles:

No territorial or other aggrandizement.

No territorial changes not in accord with the freely expressed wishes of the peoples concerned.

Respect for the rights of all peoples to choose their forms of government

Equal access by all nations to world trade and raw materials

Fullest international economic collaboration.

Establishment of a peace assuring safety to all nations and freedom from want and fear to all men.

Freedom of the seas

Abandonment of the use of force among nations, disarmament of those threatening aggression.

On these points, the president told the prime minister, "we based, and continue to base, our hopes for a better future for the world."

A year ago, he declared, nations fighting for their existence against a "common, barbaric foe," were units or small groups Now these nations and groups of nations in all the continents, he said, have formed a great union of humanity, dedicated to realization of the program of purposes and principles of the Atlantic charter, through a victory over common enemies.

UNDER SCRUTINY

Wright Field Personnel to Face Investigation.

DAYTON —(U.P.)— U. S. Rep Greg Holbrock (D.) of Hamilton said today that an investigation would be made of alleged "inefficiency of personnel and gross mismanagement" at Wright Field, center of aircraft research and procurement for the army air forces.

Holbrock said that the investigation would "bring out the facts" and added that whether a report is filed with the house military affairs committee will depend upon the recommendation of the commanding officer at the field.

Holbrock's statement followed an order from Brig. Gen. Arthur W. Vanaman, Wright Field material center commander, to field employes to "redouble your efforts for 100 per cent efficiency."

Symphony Places Smith College on Petrillo Blacklist

NORTHAMPTON, Mass.—(INS)— James Petrillo's American Federation of Musicians put Smith college on the blacklist today because the non-union Boston Symphony has been scheduled to give a series of concerts.

The blacklist affects five other concerts in the series, and also a new series of performances requested by naval officers in charge of the training program of the WAVES, who asked college officials to provide musical entertainment for the 900 navy auxiliaries going into training at the college next month.

If the Boston symphony appears at the college, all union artists and orchestra will be barred from giving performances.

BRITISH ADMIT CRUISER LOSS

Manchester Goes Down In Hot Naval Fight As Convoy Makes Malta Harbor.

(By Associated Press)

LONDON—One of the greatest sea and air battles of the Mediterranean has cost Britain the cruiser Manchester and the aircraft carrier Eagle, but resulted in delivery of reinforcements and new planes for Malta and saw Italy's cruisers again turn tail and run, according to the British admiralty.

Known Axis losses include two submarines sunk and two cruisers hit by torpedoes, said the admiralty's communique which today gave the first official Allied account of the battle which had been in progress since Tuesday.

The Rome radio declared, "the joint effort by British and American resources was the greatest ever attempted in the Mediterranean" The admiralty made no mention of American participation.

Republic and Youngstown Enter Contracts With CIO.

PITTSBURGH —(AP)— The CIO United Steelworkers announced today that two more "Little Steel" corporations — Republic and Youngstown Sheet and Tube — have signed contracts with the union as required by the war labor board's decision last month.

Bethlehem Steel is the only one of the four companies in the "Little Steel" group not yet signed. The union said that "negotiators, meeting in New York, are in virtual agreement on terms of that contract." Inland Steel signed Aug. 5.

The contracts include the directives of the war labor board, a 5½ cents an hour pay increase, retroactive to last February; a maintenance of union clause and checkoff of union dues.

London Papers Say First Stage Of Battle Ends

'Americans Have Won,' Word Sent From Sydney; Reinforcements Reported Pouring Into Positions Taken From Jap Defenders.

(By International News Service)

LONDON—The first stage of the Solomon islands battle is over "and the Americans have won it," the well-informed London Evening Star reported in a special Sydney dispatch today.

Coincident with disclosure by the Yorkshire Post that a full division of American troops are now firmly entrenched in the Solomons, with reinforcements pouring in, and a call by Major Gen. Mark W. Clark, commander of United States ground forces in Great Britain, for an offensive in Europe, the Star said:

"In the last two days, U. S. Marines have made such progress in the Tulagi area that they will not be dislodged unless the Japanese succeed in bringing up heaviest reinforcements.

"Latest reports indicate that strongest American reinforcements have been thrown in against stubborn but weakening Japanese resistance at Tulagi.

"It is believed that the Allies have or soon will have complete control of Tulagi island as well as the Guadalcanal air field and the most important parts of Florida island.

"Reports that the Allies have landed on Malaita island seem most certain

"More landings will be made as the offensive develops.

"The battle for the islands seems likely to go on for weeks as there will be a series of bitterly-contested land engagements and as great a scattered naval battle, in which the largest fleet units may be engaged.

"It seems clear that the Japanese have accepted the American challenge and rather than lose the Solomons will risk a major naval clash.

"The island jungles provide shelter where small bands of the enemy with plenty of equipment may hold out for a long time, with the Japanese certain to make a strong fight to hold their bases in the chain.

"Radio silence is vital. Therefore it is still impossible to give a clear picture of the fleet action. But it seems probable there is a strong Allied superiority in aircraft carriers."

General Clark was outspoken in his call for an Allied attack in Europe to follow up the triumph which seems to be in the making on the other side of the globe.

"We are here to take the offensive," Gen. Clark said in a broadcast to the United States.

"The attitude of us all is: 'Let's get started!'

"American troops over here want to fight, and they're going to get a chance to fight."

Disclosure that from 15,000 to 20,000 American soldiers or marines—the exact numerical composition of a division is a military secret and depends upon the type of troops involved—have taken up position in the Solomons previously held by the Japanese was made by the Yorkshire Post in a dis-

DREAM-BOOK: Japan Claims 35 United Nations Ships Sunk

(By Associated Press)

For comfort at home, imperial Tokyo headquarters issued a fantastic claim of Allied naval losses in the eight-day-old battle of the Solomon islands today but significantly omitted mention of land gains by United States Marines.

Recalling Tokyo's dream-book accounts of the Coral sea and Midway battles, both spectacular United Nations victories, the Jap command reported the sinking of 13 British and American cruisers, nine destroyers, three submarines and 10 transports in the Solomons.

In addition, the communique said, a cruiser, three destroyers and a transport were damaged in attacks by Jap warships and suicide-diving Jap airmen.

On the debit side, the Jap acknowledged only that two of their cruisers were "slightly damaged" and 21 planes lost.

In contrast with the enemy's claim of 35 Allied warships sunk and five damaged, official United Nations figures so far show only one cruiser sunk and two cruisers, two destroyers and a transport damaged in the attack on the Solomons.

While Tokyo maintained silence on land operations in the Solomon Islands, 900 miles northeast of Australia, the war ministry announced that Lieut.-Gen. Masaharu Homma had been relieved as commander-in-chief of Jap forces in the Philippines. This might mean that Homma was being shifted to

RUSSIA: Red Army Crushes German Attack on Stalingrad

BULLETIN

MOSCOW—(U.P.)—The Red army is closing a trap on German motorized infantry which pierced Soviet defenses at the Don northwest of Stalingrad and Russian fliers have broken up an enemy attempt to bolster wavering Nazi lines with air-borne troops on the northwest front, official advices said today.

(By Associated Press)

Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's Red armies were reported today to have crushed the first great Nazi onslaught toward Stalingrad today, counter-attacking to drive back the Germans after they had broken through and reached the Don below Kletskaya, 75 miles northwest of the big Volga steel city.

Soviet dispatches said the Germans opened a short-lived breach by sending huge numbers of tanks into a narrow sector.

The German-controlled Paris radio asserted that part of Stalingrad was in flames under intensive Nazi aerial attack.

In the Caucasus, the Russians acknowledged that German flying columns driving down the Rostov-Baku railway toward the Caspian sea had advanced within 140 miles of the Grozny oil fields after a 50-mile thrust in 24 hours.

The invaders were now leaving the flat plains on the northern side of the towering Caucasus range, a terrain ideally suited for tanks, and had come within sight of the snow-capped Mt. Elborus rising 18,465 feet above the steppes.

A bulletin from Adolf Hitler's field headquarters, emphasizing the new phaze of the fighting declared:

"The enemy, exploiting mountainous terrain which is particularly favorable for defense, is still putting up resistance in

U. S. VICTORY IN SOLOMONS FIGHT CLAIMED

London Reports Say First Phase Over, 'Americans Have Won It.'

This highly conservative newspaper, owned by the family of Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, disclosed yesterday that the Japanese navy has lost the use of Tulagi harbor. Deprived of its main base in the islands, the enemy fleet is compelled to join battle with American and Australian naval units a definite disadvantage.

Tokyo's list of 35 American and British warships sunk and five others damaged as against two Japanese cruisers "slightly damaged but still in action" was laughed off at the admiralty as a high-water mark in Oriental fakery. Observers were inclined to believe that even the notoriously low level of Japanese intelligence could hardly swallow this incredible disparity.

The Yorkshire Post's correspondent, presumably possessed of information not available to other sources, described the American landings on Tulagi, Florida and Guadalcanal islands in the Solomons as the first step in a carefully-laid plan to occupy the entire 800-mile long chain, which was a British protectorate before the Japanese swept into the unarmed and unprepared archipelago in their first surge of conquest after Pearl Harbor.

The expeditionary forces sent into battle, the Post said, were most complete, represented by all types of fighting units with the most modern equipment. The American attackers included even gliders and parachute troops, the correspondent said.

A statement issued by the marine corps in Washington earlier in the week clearly indicated that this was no lightly-planned blow but a carefully prepared and frequently rehearsed invasion. If successful, as all signs now indicate, it probably can be regarded as the prototype to be followed at a later date elsewhere in the Pacific and eventually—as demanded today by General Clark—in Europe as well.

Concrete news on Pacific development was sparse beyond the Yorkshire Post's disclosures. The Daily Telegraph of Sydney, according to Reuter, warned that heavy Allied losses must be expected. But the paper emphasized, they will be fully justified if the Japanese are forced back from their vital bases of attack and defense.

Planes Push Attacks On Jap Transports

GENERAL MacARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australia — — The battle of the Solomon Islands exploded over a broadening area of the South Seas today with Allied bombers blasting at Japanese warships and transports apparently trying to reinforce garrisons hurled out of three coastal areas by United States marines.

Allied flying fortresses and medium bombers caught the enemy vessels in New Guinea waters, west of the Solomons, yesterday and drove home three separate attacks, a headquarters communique reported.

News of the land fighting still was meager as the battle entered its second week, and Washington's navy communique said only that operations were continuing.

There was every indication nevertheless that this first Allied offensive of the war had now grown into a clash of major proportions and one which might alter the whole course of the Pacific struggle.

The headquarters communique said that during the first of yesterday's attacks on the Japanese ships off New Guinea, six Japanese Zero fighters challenged a flight of flying fortresses and that two enemy craft were shot down and three damaged.

Seven Zeros engaged medium bombers in the second attack and one of the enemy fighters was destroyed. The third Allied attack was carried out without interference.

All the Allied planes returned to their bases, but some sustained damage.

The Japanese vessels attacked in New Guinea waters presumably were headed towards the Solomons from Salamaua, their chief base in New Guinea, or from Rabaul or Gasmata, in New Britain.

More U. S. Forces Landed In Britain

LONDON—(INS)—Another large contingent of American forces has arrived safely in the British Isles, it was announced today. It was one of the biggest troop convoys to reach the country.

The new arrivals were quoted as saying the trip across the Atlantic was uneventful—"like a peacetime crossing."

The units included transport, artillery and anti-aircraft battalions. As the men came ashore trains were waiting to take them to assigned areas.

British military bands welcomed the new arrivals with a medley of John Philip Sousa marches, and above the martial strains came disembarkation orders shouted through megaphones by American officers.

'MILK REVOLT' AT PLANT ENDS

Refreshment Cart Arrives On Time, Production Goes On.

PATERSON, N. J. — (AP) — The "milk rebellion" at the Wright Aeronautical corporation is ended.

A company spokesman disclosed that 100 workers staged a 15-minute demonstration yesterday when a milk cart failed to appear as usual at mid-morning to refill dispensers at plant No. 2.

"No milk, no work," the spokesman quoted the demonstrators as shouting as they halted work. A large number of other workers continued at their jobs building airplane engines.

The "rebellion" ended with the appearance of the milk cart. It was on time today.

Of that amount the city will provide $25,000, obtaining $10,000 of it through special assessments against owners of property along the section of Route 42 to be resurfaced.

Work on the job was delayed last month when the government "froze" supplies of asphalt for road and street construction. Stander said enough had been released, however, to complete the Mansfield project.

Included in the project in the city will be sections of East First and Hedges street which have been used extensively by trucks as Route 42-A. Both streets were badly damaged during the spring months.

Completion date for the project is Sept. 30. One-way traffic will be maintained over the entire route while work is in progress, Stander said.

the Solomons where American Leathernecks are expanding at least three beachheads.

Meanwhile, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced that Allied bombers were continuing to blast at Japanese warships and transports apparently trying to reinforce their garrisons in the Solomons.

Unofficial reports in Australia said U. S. marines were pushing deeper into the jungles on three key islands—believed to be Florida, Guadalcanal and Malaita.

Dispatches said there were indications that America's first offensive of the war had grown into a struggle of major porportions which might alter the whole course of the Far Pacific conflict.

Other developments:

INDIAN CRISIS — Dwindling violence in Mohandas K. Gandhi's campaign for independence eased the reign of terror over India today.

Mills and factories were reported re-opening in Bombay, and New Delhi, another trouble center, was quiet.

Sporadic street fighting and vandalism elsewhere included a clash at Dacca, where one person was killed and several wounded when guards opened fire on a mob attempting to set fire to court records.

Tokyo sounded another veiled threat to India, with a government spokesman declaring that "India is being used for Allied war purposes, and Japan cannot tolerate such a situation.

"It is a different question when and what steps Japan will take," the spokesman added.

are scouring the southern half of the county for scrap materials. They will move northward soon and later the campaign will be opened in Mansfield.

Collection of waste fats for the manufacture of munitions was showing more progress today as more meat dealers became acquainted with the procedure they must follow in handling the kitchen fats, Mrs. Gayle Owings, chairman of the drive, reported.

Mrs. Owings explained that all kinds of meat frying may be mixed together in one container, but the greases must be strained and sold in tin containers with large openings to facilitate handling. Meat dealers have been instructed to buy the waste fats, either vegetable or animal, for four cents a pound.

Junk automobiles are not being scrapped as quickly in northern Ohio as they were previously, District Salvage Chief Robinson said.

He said the scrap in old cars is urgently needed for war production. Although a car's value as junk may not be more than $10 or $15, it's value to the war effort cannot be measured in dollars and cents.

NAVY MOVES IN AND RE-OPENS STRUCK PLANT

Admiral Calls Second Shift Workers to Report At Bayonne Industry.

where wire and cables for the armed forces have been manufactured.

Brig. Gen. R. K. Robertson arrived with an aide from Governor's island and entered the building.

Soon afterward Admiral Bowen and Lieut. Commander J. A. Holderness arrived from Washington.

(At Washington, the navy department announced that Bowen had been designated to operate the plant. Bowen had charge of operating the Federal Shipbuilding and Drydock company plant at Kearney, N. J., from Aug. 25, 1941, to Jan. 6, 1942, when that plant was taken over by the navy because of labor difficulties.)

A. Alfred Fink, attorney for the 1,000 strikers, members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical workers (AFL), said he felt "sure that the men will be glad to work for Uncle Sam."

However, the strikers had not made up their minds and were meeting at 10 a. m.

"A meeting of employes will be held at 10 a. m., at which time they undoubtedly will take appropriate action to cooperate with the navy in every way," Mike Petrarkian, head of the strike committee, said.

The prompt action of President Roosevelt forestalled a strike at the Perth Amboy, N. J., plant of General Cable corporation, which employs 2,700 workers.

Workers who already had voted to strike and twice advanced the deadline, voted 115 to 50 last night "to abide by the war labor board's decision."

An officer of the Perth Amboy local said 835 members did not vote, although they attended the meeting and heard AFL officials and Lieut. Commander Kenneth E. Yandell, industrial relations officer of the third naval district, appeal to them not to strike. Union members said Yandell's plea, as much as the pleas of their officers, influenced them not to walk out.

Pleas had failed in the case of the local strikers. The WLB had asked them to "remember our boys fighting in the Solomon islands." President William Green of the AFL and Edward Brown, president of the electrical workers union, had besought them in vain to call off their strike.

They voted yesterday—despite notice that the plant would be seized—to continue the strike. Almost the entire output of the General Cable corporation's plants, wire and cable, goes to the armed forces, principally the navy.

Mr. Roosevelt, at 6 p. m. yesterday, ordered the navy to move in. The WLB had reported to him that the cause of the strike was "solely dissatisfaction of the workers with the decision of the national war labor board denying them a general wage increase."

The WLB, applying the yardstick it had set in the Little Steel decision, refused a 10-cent-an-hour increase, because, it said, the workers had received raises of 15 per cent or more since January, 1941.

as British battleships accompanied the Malta convoy.

The admiralty intimated that the convoy might have suffered further losses or damage, saying, "it is not to be expected that extensive and dangerous operations of this type, carried out in close proximity to enemy bases, can be completed without loss."

It declared, however, that published Axis claims were known to be exaggerated.

Combined German and Italian claims included: sunk, three cruisers, two destroyers, 21 merchant ships and the aircraft carrier Eagle; damaged, one battleship, two aircraft carriers, including the U. S. aircraft carrier Wasp, and "numerous other steamers and men-of-war."

Originally, however, the Germans had claimed only 21 merchant ships were in the entire convoy.

With the exception of the Eagle, the Manchester there has been no confirmation of these Axis claims from any source.

The Manchester was a 9,400-ton cruiser completed Aug. 4, 1938. She usually carried 700 men. Her main battery consisted of 12 6-inch guns. Carrying three planes, she was one of six of the Newcastle class of cruisers.

The communique hinted at the possibility of further British losses in a "dangerous operation of this type" but declared that published enemy claims of damage to the convoy were "known to be exaggerated."

HEART ATTACK ENDS FATALLY

Mrs. W. J. Casler Succumbs At Bucyrus Hospital.

BUCYRUS—Mrs. W. J. Casler, 65, died yesterday at City hospital where she had been taken following a heart attack.

Mrs. Casler was born in Dallas township, on Sept. 29, 1876 and lived in Crawford her entire life. She lived in Bucyrus for the past nine years and was a member of Good Hope Lutheran church.

Survivors besides her husband are two sons, Walter Stiger of Oceola, and Jess Stiger of Brush Ridge; and a brother, D. C. Lust of Mt. Zion.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2:30 p. m. at the Munz funeral home with Rev. John Doescher of the New Washington Lutheran church officiating. Burial will be in Oakwood cemetery.

RUSSIA HALTS GERMAN ATTACK

Stops Drive On Stalingrad But Admits Nazi Gains Farther to South.

order to cover his retreat on the sea route from the north Caucasus ports."

German headquarters also acknowledged that the Russians were attacking heavily at Voronezh, in two key sectors on the central (Moscow) front and two sectors on the northern (Leningrad) front.

Besides Voronezh, the Red army's counter blows struck at Vyazma, about midway on the old Napoleonic highway from Moscow to Smolensk, and at the German strongpoint of Rzhev, 130 miles northwest of Moscow.

In addition, the Germans cited fierce Soviet attacks below Leningrad in the Volkhov and Lake Ilmen sectors, where the Russians declared they had killed 3,000 Nazis in two days of fighting and captured a point held by the invaders for more than a year. Soviet dispatches said the Germans counter-attacked 11 times in a futile attempt to recapture the point, on the shore of Lake Ilmen.

The Russians said they were also attacking in the Bryansk sector, 200 miles southwest of Moscow, and reported their tank-led infantry had forced the Germans to retreat under a smokescreen after abandoning 56 firing points.

Repeat Threats of Dutch Reprisals

LONDON —(AP)— Nazi broadcasts repeated today threats of death as reprisal against Dutch hostages by midnight tonight and fear was expressed by Netherlands government sources here that a "terrible slaughter" was impending.

The Germans were said to hold 1,600 hostages.

Even as the deadline drew near there were new reports of continued sabotage. The Germans announced that four persons were arrested in an attempt to blow up a Nazi-controlled radio station.

A Reuters dispatch from Stockholm said Gen. Friedrich Christiansen, Nazi commander in the Netherlands, declared that explosives found on those arrested were of "foreign origin." He was quoted as threatening reprisal against Dutch hostages throughout the district.

None of the Nazi broadcasts heard here specified the number of hostages whose lives would be forfeited if the saboteurs who wrecked a Netherlands train a week ago failed to surrender.

An undisclosed number of German troops were killed in the wreck.

Stalingrad Aflame, Says Paris Radio

LONDON—(INS)—The Nazi-controlled Paris radio said in a broadcast today heard by Reuter's that part of the Russian city of Stalingrad was in flames following an intensive aerial attack.

(CBS in New York picked up a broadcast of a Reuter dispatch by the British radio stating that German forces driving east from battlegrounds southwest of Stalingrad had reached almost to within 30 miles of the west bank of the Volga river.)

NEW CRUISERS

First of 3 Police Cars Goes Into Operation Today.

Mansfield's three new police cruisers will be in operation just as soon as installations of special police radios and other essential equipment is complete.

Police Chief Thomas M. Bell said that the radios and shatterproof windshield glass in the cruisers formerly in use are now being transferred to the new vehicles.

One of the cruisers was placed in service today and a second will probably be ready by tomorrow the chief said.

BOY, 16, ENDS LIFE

TOLEDO—(INS)—Daniel Magill, 16, shot himself to death in the attic of his home yesterday. Coroner Frank G. Kreft returned a verdict of suicide because of despondency.

GALION POLICE PROBE WAVE OF CYCLE THEFTS

Four Bicycles Stolen Yesterday, Two Re-Sold to Residents By Stranger.

GALION — Four bicycles were reported stolen in Galion Thursday, and two of them were sold to Galion residents as second-hand bicycles the same day. The bicycles belonging to Mrs. A. Burch, of 438 Harding Way West and to Cecilia Smothers were sold to Western Auto Supply company and to Glenn Gwinner.

Western Auto supply employes said that the seller of the vehicle which they bought gave his name as Clark, and that they gave him a check for $20.00 in payment.

The bicycle owned by Mrs. Burch was sold to Glenn Gwinner, who reported that he purchased it from a man for $18.75.

Two other bicycles owned by Jack Gay and Mrs. Dorothy Stowe have not yet been recovered. Chief of Police Merle D. Gow said Thursday night that the man contacting Gwinner presented a social security card showing his name.

Investigation in conjunction with the Columbus police where a man by that name was convicted of grand larceny in 1941 is being conducted by Galion police officials.

Police have issued a warning to neighboring towns that a similar wave of thefts might be anticipated. The description which was given to the police described the man as being 20-25 years old, 5 feet, 8 inches tall, 140 pounds, dark hair and complexion, small mustache. He was wearing a green and tan jacket, tan slacks, and tan and white shoes.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, FRIDAY, AUGUST 14, 1942.

Successful farmers know that they can't get a good harvest by sitting in the shade.

Chicago girls are no longer permitted to stand at the bar in saloons—is their newly gained freedom to be lost so soon!

Unheard remark: "I am much pleased with the sugar-rationing plan—seems like such a sensible way to keep people from bothering to can fruit."

'Civil Disobedience' In U. S. Also

BEFORE Americans adopt a too-critical attitude toward the campaign of "civil disobedience" now in progress in India, where the average of intelligence is assumed to be lower than in the United States, it may be well to give thought to some of the things going on in this country which are hampering the national war effort and further jeopardizing the lives of America's young men now scattered in all parts of the world.

While war materials are being turned out at a rapid pace, more are needed—and more will be steadily needed until victory has been achieved—but day after day come reports of "work stoppages" and "labor holidays" . . . any designation that may be hit upon to avoid the stigma to calling them "strikes"—which have been declared against "for the duration."

Millions are at work—honestly, earnestly and tirelessly—to do necessary jobs in supporting the nation's fighting men, but thousands indulge in the disheartening practice of "slowing down" in their work, or leaving their places of employment, in defiance of the War Labor Board and to the detriment of many other phases of war production.

For the past several days the spotlight of public attention has been directed toward a Bayonne, N. J., strike of workers in a war plant, and, as usual, the demand is for higher wages, with picket lines to prevent entry of employes who desire to work.

It is the announced policy of the War Labor Board to adjust wages in relation to increases in living costs, as a part of the government's anti-inflation program, but refusal of congress to establish wage ceilings, together with exorbitant wages being paid to some war workers, has brought on a wave of strikes at the very time every American should be thinking first of what an Axis victory would mean to himself, his family and his country.

"I'm not working this week because we're out on strike," is not the sort of message any American father would care to send to a soldier son who is depending on "the folks back home."

Foresee Mammoth Air Freighters

THERE is nothing basically new in the idea of using cargo airplanes to supplant water-borne transport. It has long been urged by such authorities on the strength and the adaptability of airpower as Major de Seversky.

What is new is the magnitude of the plan recently proposed by Henry J. Kaiser, and supported by a number of the principal builders of aircraft. The German cargo planes so far used have been relatively small—Mr. Kaiser envisages air freighters of 200 to 500 tons. The German planes, due to the reich's geographical position, have not had to have any great range—Mr. Kaiser envisages freighters which can cross the seas and still have capacity for tremendous amounts of cargo.

The German planes, it is believed, were and are being produced slowly and in relatively small numbers—Mr. Kaiser talks of building planes of vast size under a mass-production system which will turn them out almost as quickly as Detroit assembly lines used to turn out motor cars.

No one can deny that the cargo plane idea, if it is workable, will prove at least a partial solution to the most difficult problem the United Nations face.

So far as production for war is concerned, this country has generally realized the "arsenal of democracy" goal laid down by the president. But getting that production to the far-flung battlefronts of this global war is a very different matter.

Accidents Due To Defective Brakes

TWO motor vehicle accidents which might easily have resulted in fatalities, as reported in yesterday's News-Journal, were attributed to defective brakes.

This appeared obvious in the case of the runaway truck which injured one man and caused considerable property damage on North Main street Wednesday evening, and was also claimed by the driver of an automobile which ran into a train at the Longview avenue crossing soon afterward.

An uncontrolled truck or passenger car, running wild on a public street, is capable doing inestimable damage, and it is incumbent of all owners and operators to make sure that brakes and all other mechanical parts are kept in condition to meet any emergency.

Complaint is made that local delivery trucks, as well as transient transport trucks, exceed reasonable speed on Mansfield streets, and if this is associated with defective mechanism the hazard becomes too great to be lightly considered.

From Store To Army

WHAT store does the biggest retail business in the United States? Many people would name a store in New York, others Chicago's largest department store. Both would be wrong. The city of Detroit, with its thousands of industrial workers, has a department store which topped the list in volume of sales last year.

Last week Oscar Webber, head of that great store, waved it good-bye for the duration to accept a post in the ordnance department of the United States Army in Detroit, that city's biggest business of all. As deputy chief of this district, later to be chief, Webber will be head of a five billion dollar business with 7,100 employes, a thousand less than he directed in his own business.

Webber is only one of hundreds of Americans who are turning their backs on personal interests to give the best they have to the service of their country.

A check-up discloses that as many as 7,500 marriage licenses issued in New York each year are never used—thus probably lightening the load of divorce courts to an approximate extent.

The poet who had an idea that "man wants but little here below" seems to have been rather poorly informed on the subject.

BREAKING THE TOE HOLD

Officials Claim Agents Save Time

—By CARTER FIELD

WASHINGTON — It is not only corporations which are perturbed by pending legislation which would prevent the paying of fees to agents representing them in Washington—fees usually fixed by a percentage of the amount of contracts obtained. Many of the buying experts, particularly in the army, navy and Maritime Commission, are worried also.

This point by the government officials against the pending legislation is that the constant visits of agents of companies is not a waste of their — the officials' — time by any means, since they are amply protected against unwanted visits. But visits by agents keep the army and navy officials abreast of all the latest improvements in machinery, processing, etc., to a degree which could not be achieved as economically in any other way.

"It is not a question of anyone trying to hide anything," a navy man told the writer. "But it would take a huge force of experts, traveling all the time and constantly conferring with officials of various corporations and plant foremen to learn what these much maligned agents bring in to us eagerly.

"The agents have a selfish motive, of course. They want to earn a commission. They no doubt exaggerate the advantages of anything the companies they represent have worked out. But we learn quickly and simply what is new, and then concentrate the visitations of our experts to plants scattered over the country to where, the visits would accomplish the most in the least time.

"In short, the use of these corporation agents' selling efforts enable us to winnow the wheat from the chaff, at least nine times out of ten.

FOR INSTANCE a concern in St. Louis may have worked out a new machine for making Part X of an airplane. The company is pleased with it, and wants to do something about it. It informs its Washington agent. Now this agent is by way of being an expert himself. He knows what the army and navy want, by constant contact with us. He knows what his competitors are doing along the same lines. So he often does a little winnowing himself. He may tell the St. Louis concern that its idea is very good, but another concern at South Bend has an even better idea for the same function. Whereupon the St. Louis output is stepped up, or made more economical, without the army and navy people having their time wasted.

"But if the idea of the St. Louis crowd is really tops, or appeals in the way to its agent here, then we get a crack at it. If we like the sound of it, we send an expert there to study it. The agent may make a commission, but a lot of valuable time of government experts is saved by the whole system."

Incidentally if these agents were just incorporated, the excess profits tax would hit them hard enough, perhaps, to make worry about the whole thing unnecessary on the part of congress. But the discriminatin in the taxing laws against corporations and in favor of firms or individuals leaves that loophole wide open. The agent usually operates without incorporation. So he pays only personal income taxes. He doesn't have to pay the 40 per cent corporation income tax, and then the 90 per cent excess profits tax the house has proposed.

Coddled Monsters

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

D'YU LIKE DETECTIVE MAGAZINES? I do. I read myself to sleep over them—after I've done my nightly stint with the highbrow volumes. And if you think their exciting pages are merely smeared with gore, you've another guess coming. For some of the soundest and most progressive thought in our nation appears amongst their crime documents.

There's that recent article by Jeanette C. Brill, former city magistrate of New York City and Justice of the Domestic Relations Court, as told to Cordelia Makarius. It's about a subject few of us wish to face—the subject of the sex offender—the fiends who leave mangled babies, and tortured women in their dreadful wake.

There is no problem more prevalent in America than this . . . no peril more ghastly . . . and none so neglected, as Judge Brill knows to her own horror and heartache. For she has had to sit above such monsters in judgment, knowing that she had no legal authority to prevent their atrocities or curb their mad desires save by a temporary fee or confinement.

Sex fiends. Not a nice subject to talk about—but a subject which most earnestly and awfully needs our discussion. For you and I are responsible for the ever-increasing number of sex fiends which prey upon this nation, and you and I alone can devise a way to control them.

You snort indignantly. You wonder why you should be held responsible for any of these horrors. You're sure you never associated with any sex fiend. But don't be too sure! The sex offender isn't the fiend when you first meet him. He's somebody's toddling baby—soft, appealing and helpless. Maybe he's your own little tyke whose groping hand you clutch with ecstacy . . . whose questioning mind you watch with pride.

Then comes the day when something happens. Your nearest neighbor comes to you in hesitation—honest concern in his or her voice. He doesn't want to tell you but he thinks you ought to know. Junior's been "up to something." Something not nice. He and two or three other little kids—Down in the garage—

Chances are, you stop him furiously. How dare he insinuate such a foul thing! Junior's nothing but an innocent baby . . . he doesn't know what such beastliness is all about.

Or perhaps Junior hasn't "been up to something." Perhaps he's just extremely quiet—shy—doesn't care to play with other children—likes to spend his time reading in his own room or listening to the radio. What's wrong with that?

THIS MUCH IS WRONG—OUT OF SUCH ABNORMAL SECLUSION, OUT OF SUCH FURTIVE EXPERIMENTS, WEAKLINGS ARE BRED. WEAKLINGS WHO CANNOT FACE LIFE...WEAKLINGS WHO CANNOT LOVE AND LAUGH AS NORMAL PEOPLE DO . . . WEAKLINGS WHO MAY BECOME MONSTERS IF TIME AND CIRCUMSTANCES OFFER THEM THEIR DREADFUL OPPORTUNITIES. YET WHO ARE GUARDED IN THEIR RESPECTIVE HOMES BY MISTAKEN LOVE . . . OR CAST LOOSE UPON SOCIETY BECAUSE THERE IS NO ADEQUATE LAW TO CURE OR BIND THEM. NO LAW WHICH WILL PREVENT YOUR LITTLE GIRL OR YOUR OLD MOTHER FROM BEING ATTACKED.

Judge Brill knows these things through long and dreadful knowledge. She—and every newspaper or social worker—knows that unspeakable horrors occur daily in America for which there is no remedy in law. She knows that every time an abnormal assault occurs the police "round up all sex offenders." But why must the sex offenders be rounded up after the third or fourth or fifth offense? Why are they not within the ward of some psychiatric hospital or permanently behind the bars which confine the criminally insane?

The cry Judge Brill makes should echo in every heart. Listen—

"Give your judges, your law enforcement officers, the right to help in ridding the country of this menace. They cannot do it unless you, the citizens, see that laws are passed to back them up. I know for I have sat on the bench, sick at heart, knowing I was helpless under the existing laws to do more than give a man a jail sentence, then see him go free, a potential murderer, to prey on helpless women and children until it was too late to save a life.

WAKE UP! DO SOMETHING!"

Penalty for Treason.

Max Stephan, a naturalized citizen of the United States, helped a captured German aviator who had escaped from Canada and was trying to return home. He has now been tried; convicted and sentenced to death by a federal court in Detroit. The crime of which Stephan was found guilty consisted of giving "aid and comfort" to the enemies of his adopted country. That crime is treason.

There was no question of the facts in the case. Stephan knew what he was doing. He wanted Germany to win. His American allegiance meant nothing to him, except for the protection it might give him in operating an underground railroad. The penalty he received was severe but just. It is essential to remind disloyal citizens that we are a nation at war and the old easy attitude toward accomplices of our enemies no longer prevails. Perhaps even after the war we will never again look with such indulgence upon those who betray our confidence, whether citizens or aliens.—Kansas City Star.

Another Winter Offensive Looms As Russia Gains Power In North

—By LOUIS F. KEEMLE

THE MORE rugged territory of the Caucasian foothills into which the Germans now are advancing has slowed the momentum of their drive slightly but the fury of their attack has not lessened and they appear likely to achieve their immediate objectives.

These objectives are the Black sea coast and the Grozny oil fields near the Caspian. In the north the objective is Stalingrad and the Volga river. There the Russians are holding well and it seems at least possible that the Germans may be stopped in front of Stalingrad as they were before Moscow and Leningrad last year.

The Germans are fighting for time on the now broadening front, which extends from Voronezh to the Caucasus mountains. Their minimum goal is to establish a winter line on the Volga from Stalingrad to Astrakhan; on the Black sea coast as far south as Sukhurm, and along the Caucasus foothills to Grozny and beyond to Makhack Kala, on the Caspian.

All this needs to be done before winter and it is now mid-August. If the Germans achieve this vast program, their summer campaign will have been a big success with one, big exception—they will not have knocked Russia out of the war.

If the Germans reach Sukhurm and Makhack Kala, their more distant objectives would be Batum, just short of the Turkish border, and Baku, the heart of Russia's principal oil fields. Batum they may get, but it is quite probable that the Russians will be able to hold the defensible stretch of Caspian coast from Makhack Kala to Baku, where the mountains dip down to from one to three miles of the sea.

If the Germans reach the objectives outlined, it is likely that they will try to stand for the winter and divert a good part of their offensive strength elsewhere, probably to Egypt.

However, it may be that the Russians themselves can upset this program. There has been a significant lull all during the summer on the northern front from Voronezh to Leningrad. The Germans threw so much of their strength into the south that they have made no effort to storm Moscow and Leningrad. The season is getting so late that it hardly seems probable that they will attempt any such drive this year.

Meanwhile the Russians obviously have maintained their strength in the north, or Moscow and Leningrad would have been easy prey for the Germans.

It is not improbable that Stalin has large forces of trained men in reserve. When winter comes, a great Russian offensive might develop in the north, as it did last year.

Heavily committed in the south, and his resources strained by the costly summer offensive, Hitler might find it hard to meet such a threat, much less turn his full attention to Egypt and the Middle East.

Watching Trends

—By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Of all the guff being kicked around about this war, the argument over whether our planes, tanks, guns, etc., are superior or inferior to those of the enemy should be the most quickly ignored.

I'm going to put the cart in front of the horse and say this now: In spite of all past stupidities, resistance to change and cleavage to old-fashioned ideas, our military forces won't insist on yesterday's weapons when today's have been proved superior on the fields of battle.

WHEN the M-3 tank was found to have certain flaws under actual battle conditions, the army came out with the M-4 and soon there won't be anything else produced in the medium tank field. When it was found that the old French-75 — the greatest anti-tank gun ever developed—lacked armor-piercing qualities that heavier enemy guns had, engineers increased its muzzle velocity (and hence its armor-piercing force) without sacrificing its mobility. To put the cart back where it belongs: Weapons are based on strategic plans.

For instance, the Nazi 88-mm anti-tank gun has been credited with the Libyan desert victories. If it's such a remarkable weapon why aren't the United Nations turning them out today? And why didn't the Axis go ahead with those 88's and take Alexandria and the Suez?

Ordnance experts explain the gun is mobile until fired and then must have a semi-permanent emplacement. Hence it is good only for defense or ambush. It was the latter—Rommel's clever ambush of June 13—that permitted the 88 to do its deadliest.

AS FOR the Japs' Zero fighters: I heard a navy man, who also is a congressman, give the U. S. a lashing for not having anything to compare with them. He talked of the punishment they had dealt to Navy PYB flying boats. But the navy's big flying boats are patrol and reconnaissance planes, while the Zeros are short-range fighters. The proof of the pudding is in the eating. For example:

Over Hengyang (in Hunan province) a small force of former AVG "Flying Tigers" recently went against 29 Zeros, knocked off nine for certain, possibly ten, losing only three planes themselves.

At Midway seven naval planes ran into 20 Zeros, knocked out seven and lost one. The other 13 Zeros fled.

Latest word is that the Japs have a "new, improved Zero." What is it? A more heavily armored plane, slower and less maneuverable than its predecessor, but safer for the pilot — IN OTHER WORDS, more nearly like the U. S. fighters and pursuit planes.

A shotgun is a fine thing at 40 paces, but it won't even scare a deer at a quarter of a mile. The verbal battle over superiority of weapons is almost as simple as that.

Man About Manhattan

Here Comes Laura

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—I sat in a studio and listened to a girl sing a torch song in the low throaty tones that best identify the torch. Her name was Laura Deane Dutton. She wanted to sing, just as millions of girls have wanted to sing, and I wondered if she knew that out of a million there comes only one Ruth Etting, one Helen Morgan, one Bea Wain or Dinah Shore.

You see them around with the dream in their eyes, wanting to get on, wanting that old song that will mean a smash and real recognition—and the easy living and good times that go with it.

Ruth Etting, when she sang "I'm Through With Love"—and meant it—had it, for a while. . . . Libby Holman had it. . . . She was husky-voiced, too, when she sang "Oh, Give Me Something To Remember You By." . . . Helen Morgan had it with her twisted hankies and that lachrymose lament about "My Bill." . . . Bea Wain, the "Reverie girl," had it, and Dinah Shore. . . . Maybe Laura Deane Dutton has it, too.

SHE'S on the Blue network three times a week at 3:45 p. m., in a prorgam called "Fifteen Minutes From Broadway." She has blue eyes and dark hair and plenty of looks, and she's young. She has a low throaty voice that seems especially suited to such songs as "I Get a Kick Out of You," "Begin the Beguine," "Body and Soul," "I've Got You Under My Skin," "Melancholy Baby," and "Where Or When."

She has had now a little more than a year in what is known as the big time supper clubs in New York and Miami, which means engagements at the Rainbow Room, the Waldorf-Astoria, Armando's La Martinique, and similar places.

EACH of these numbers is recorded. . . . Then she goes home and plays the record back to herself, and criticizes it. . . . In this way she studies continually.

You see her in the clubs, and when someone begins to sing you can see the old dream burn in her eyes—the dream that Etting had, and Holman, and Morgan, and millions of others.

Sometimes those dreams come true with a single song. . . . It wasn't until "Yes, My Darling Daughter" that Dinah Shore really became a star. . . . It wasn't until "My Reverie" that Bea Wain really set the world on fire. . . . It wasn't until "Oh, Johnny" that people became aware of wee Bonnie Baker.

It's a comic-strip business, singing. . . . It's zaney and unpredictable, and it's great and a lot of fun. . . . If you've got it, if you don't discourage easily, and are willing to stick in there, maybe you'll win. . . . Etting, Morgan, Shore, Yvette, Wain—they did. . . . I think maybe Dutton will too.

A Farmer's Diary

Huckleberries

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

UP ON our slope, by the base of the steepest rise, I suddenly came upon two fruiting huckleberry bushes. Although the soil was light and grew only poverty grass—that now lies in barren slippery folds upon the stony ground—these bushes were robed in healthy dark green leaves. Beneath were large purple berries held close between thick clusters of smaller green fruit.

When I planted peach trees in the spring, I did not notice them. All through the months of May and June they leafed and put forth their myriads of lacy bloom. Now for the past four weeks at each visit I kneel and pick the largest, juiciest berries with thumb and finger and eat them rapidly. No matter how many are taken from the stems, there still remain a generous portion of purple berries for my return.

When I was just a lad, I used to go with my parents and older brothers in the three-seated spring wagon, drawn by two work horses, up the mountainside to pick this same kind of huckleberries.

Now, as I close my eyes, I know the magic flavor of the mountains upon my lips and hear the murmur of the clear rustic brook falling and leaping over mossy stones. I admire a speckled trout swimming in the clear cold water, and watch in wide-eyed terror an osprey drop suddenly from the sky and with a heavy splash bring up a shiny, red spotted, wriggling trout securely in his talons.

Up along the narrow mountain road where we used to go, the great trees bent overhead in a high green corridor, while smaller brush protested against our moving wheels and blue painted wagon bed.

We tied the team to a stump in an open space, and hunted sweet, blue huckleberries. Often the purple fruit hung in such profusion that we set our pails beneath the burdened twigs and stripped them downward with our fingers.

I remember still how tall the mountain top appeared, how deep blue the sky was, between the rifts of ranges. When my little pail was filled, I sat on a stone to rest. Then the tempting berries on top were always too near, their fragrance was like the rich purple wine of the mountains. I tasted a few between thumb and finger, then a small handful, and soon my pail had lost nearly half its weight.

Those two small wild huckleberry stalks on the slope are like a breath from home. I shall not tell another soul about them.

The little tots who were guests are shown in the above photo. Left to right they are Beverly Holmes, Danny Holmes, Dennis, Richard Carver, Carolyn Schubert and David Gretten. Marcia Simpson was not present when the picture was taken.

Take Care In Wearing Insignia

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Washington, D. C., has become a city of uniformed women, and sometimes the insignia they wear puts an army or navy man's teeth on edge.

Happy are those ladies who belong to organizations whose uniforms have been designed and approved by the army quartermaster corps. With its years of experience, the Q. M. C. is not going to send out our women patriots wearing insignia to which they are not entitled. But certain eager sisters connected casually with this and that unit go high, wide and handsome as to chevrons.

Having a boy friend in the service does not entitle a girl to annex the distinguishing marks of office to which he is entitled. It violates an army regulation for girls to wear army eagles, silver or gold stars, leaves, or single or double shoulder bars. The ruling is that insignia is only to be worn by "persons who present official identification indicating their right to wear such insignia."

Washington residents—a few are still left in spite of the inrush of defense personnel are more or less familiar with service identifications. They are amused to see girls, who have signed up for something vaguely along patriotic lines, helping themselves to the double bars of a captain and up, through various branches of the service.

Imagine the gasping surprise of an admiral who encountered a lovely young thing wearing gold epaulets at a reception given to the king of Greece. Her hat was not unlike his own, worn for full dress occasion, turned up smartly on both sides, and over this the girl had wrapped a red spotted veil. The admiral had declined refreshments after meeting the guest of honor, but after he encountered this female parody of his uniform, wrapped in the spotted red veil, he was overheard to say, "Double Scotch, please."

Probably he needed it, for the higher-ups in the service do not take this military coquetry on the part of young ladies lightly.

POCAHONTAS LODGE.

A short business meeting was held in Eagles hall by Pocahontas lodge members last evening. Regular business routine was conducted by Mrs. Nora Sowash. Aug. 27 is the next meeting.

"Pitfalls of Love"

(A Sequel to Marriage Meddlers)

By ADELE GARRISON

At my father's question, my pulses quickened with the sense of something of vital importance in the air.

"I am not tired at all," I told him truthfully, "and I shall be very glad to see Ronald. Is it permitted to ask why?"

"I deserved that," he said, with one of his rare laughs, "and I will tell you why immediately.

"As you probably have guessed, every letter Ronald receives is brought to me first. I do not open them, but I can tell much from the envelopes.

"Today he received one from Weirhampton, and I am sure it is from his sister Carolyn. He did not show it to me, but later on he was very jumpy and nervous. He kept asking when you would be back, and if it would be possible for him to see you tonight."

Agrees to See Ronald.

"Oh, poor boy!" I interrupted. "He must have had disturbing news. Please send him over at once, and I suppose—"

"You are right," he interpreted my pause. "I shall want to know the contents of the letter if you think that necessary. I leave that to your judgment, also persuading Ronald to show me the letter."

As he went out I braced myself to give all the strength, counsel and encouragement I could manage to Ronald, harried by the uncertainty of his fiancee's fate and by his doubts of his idolized sister.

In less than five minutes Ronald's knock sounded on my door, and when I opened it I saw that he was wrought up as he had not been since he first came to the hotel and told me of his harrowing interview with his sister Carolyn.

He sank heavily into the chair I indicated, and said, "I've just had a letter from Carol, and I don't know what to do about it.

"I ought to turn it over to your father, I suppose," he went on, "but it's an awful thing to know anybody a confidential letter from my little sister.

"However, I know it must be done. I must not think of anything except Marion's safety. But I thought if you read it first, you could tell your father about it, then I could write her that I hadn't shown it to anybody but you."

I looked at him in amazement at masculine blindness. Did he not realize that, of all people in the world, wilful Carolyn Brixton would object most to my seeing her letter?

"Do you mind reading the letter?" he asked pleadingly.

"Indeed no, dear boy," I told him warmly, and he took the letter from an inside pocket and held it out to me.

"If she were only the old Carol, the little sister who was my pal!" he said.

Exchange Vows Aug. 9

Sergt. and Mrs. John F. Baki were married Sunday at St. Paul's Lutheran church. The bride is the former Ruth Lucile Bollman, daughter of Oscar Bollman, 292 Newman street. Mr. and Mrs. Peter Baki, 115 Gibson avenue, are parents of the bridegroom. Sergeant Baki left Thursday to return to Sheppard Field, Wichita Falls, Tex., where he is stationed in the army air corps. While her husband is in the service, Mrs. Baki will continue to make her home with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Morganstern, 107 Ford street.

HOROSCOPE

For Saturday, August 15

A DAY of high adventure and possible commotion and glamor are indicated by the unusual auguries based on lunar and mutual operations. There may be sudden, breath-taking and whirlwind developments of an unpredictable nature, these having a far-reaching effect on the future and its good fortune. It is probable that thrilling romance or dramatic adventure may give great spur to emotions and ambitions, as well as to creative urges expressed in an out of the ordinary channel. However, there are hazards and temptations, demanding vigilance, self-restraint and a measure of composure and poise, in the most vivid moments, as there is hint of intrigue and sinister entanglements.

Those whose birthday it is may encounter if not thrillingly enjoy a year of spectacular, exciting, adventurous and romantic events, with the faculties and forces keyed up to dramatic experiences or exceptional accomplishments. It may be a time of surprising and unpredictable visitation, having much influence in shaping the future destiny and fortune. If not a romantic or emotional circumstance, these energies may be expressed in a stroke of creative genius in art, drama or literature.

A child born on this day should have unique, audacious, sensational and curious experiences in both its romantic and creative life.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

"The Authority on Authorities"

FINESSING TWO HONORS

Trapping two non-touching honors by means of finessing usually requires a finesse against the lower honor on the first round and against the higher on the second round. When you hold the ace-queen-ten of a suit, with the opponents having plenty of guards to the king and jack, a lead to the ten is the normal first play, and to the queen later. This also applies if honors are split between your own hand and dummy, and you want to keep the defenders from getting a trick out of the guarded king-ten when you have the other important cards.

	♠ 5 2 ♥ J 8 6 2 ♦ K J 6 4 ♣ J 6 5
♠ A Q 7 3 ♥ A Q 5 ♦ 10 9 2 ♣ 10 9 2	N W E S	♠ J 9 8 6 ♥ K 10 4 ♦ A Q 7 ♣ A K Q
	♠ K 10 4 ♥ 9 7 3 ♦ 8 5 3 ♣ 8 7 4 3

(Dealer: West. Neither side vulnerable.)

West	North	East	South
1 ♠	Pass	2 NT	Pass
3 NT	Pass	4 NT	Pass
5 ♥	Pass	5 NT	Pass
6 ♣	Pass	6 NT

East forgot one principle of play in the spade suit, after pulling himself into that risky contract, preferring No Trumps to spades because the game was match point duplicate, and he wanted the few extra points which a No Trump slam affords. He went wrong just as soon as it was possible to. After winning the club lead with the A, he led the spade 5, to put on the Q from dummy, and was beaten right there.

Take note that the Q is part of the sequence of finessing against the higher of the two missing honors, the K. That is why it was the wrong play. It left South an "inside tenace" of the K-10 over the J-9. East returned to his hand with the heart K, then led the spade J. When South covered with the K, forcing the A, it left South with the high spade, the 10. East was able after that, by winning the diamond finesse, to take a total of 11 tricks, but then was beaten by the spade 9 and the third diamond.

If East had led the spade 9 to the first trick of that suit, prepared to finesse it against the 10, or the J, ready to finesse it, he would have given himself a good sound chance to make the contract, and would have succeeded, as the cards lay. To gain 12 tricks, he had to win two finesses in spades and one in diamonds, which is exactly what he could have done by playing spades correctly.

Tomorrow's Problem.

	♠ Q 7 ♥ K J 6 3 2 ♦ 10 8 ♣ A K 10 5

(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

After the defenders take two spades and the heart A, and return the heart 10, how should South play this deal for 4-Hearts, doubled by East, who also had made three successive informative or takeout doubles during the auction?

Miss Irene Moser Becomes Bride of Corp. Robert Davis on July 11; Both Are Graduates of Ohio University.

A COLLEGE ROMANCE was culminated in marriage on July 11, when Miss Irene Moser and Corp. Robert Davis, formerly of Athens, exchanged vows in the First Methodist church at Fort Myers, Fla. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Moser, 56 Greenwood avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Don Davis of Athens are parents of the bridegroom.

Rev. W. O. Myres officiated for the ceremony which took place at 7:45 p. m.

Attendants were Tech. Sgt. Rapapont and Corp. George Daines. For the wedding Mrs. Davis was attired in a navy blue dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was of gardenias and gladioli.

Corporal Davis is stationed at Fort Myers. Before entering the service he was employed in a men's clothing store. The bride is a teacher at Liberty Center school. Both Corp. and Mrs. Davis are graduates of Ohio university at Athens. She is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta, national social sorority, and Phi Upsilon Omicron. The bridegroom belongs to Phi Delta Theta, national social fraternity.

CHAPTER XXVIII

Audrey frowned. "You shouldn't have been so generous, if you were merely pretending in front of Gordon," she said to Morley.

"Who said I was pretending? The mine's as securely yours as though it were tied around your throat."

"Then you must let me do as I want with it."

"I'm not seeing you run it to hell, if that's what you mean!"

"I'm not going to . . . In fact I've been told it's heavily in debt!"

Morley was aghast at her knowledge of the situation. "It's not some new toy to amuse yourself with. All mines are in debt."

"Are they, Cliff?"

Somehow he was slipping into corners he was not selecting.

"Of course they are!" He stood next to her, kissed the back of her neck, waited for her to turn and lift her lips, and stop talking. But she didn't. She got up too, pushed him away.

"Oh Cliff, I want us to have decency!" she said.

"We're not going to wait for any divorce, Audrey, to make us man and wife. You and I never separated. That's my answer to your decency!"

"Let me go, Cliff. I don't mean that decency. What is separating us at this moment no kisses and words can bring closer!"

"Separating us?" He laughed. "Nothing that I know about."

"There are lies . . . lies, between us."

Morley looked down into her eyes. "What lies?" He was getting angry.

"Why didn't you tell me at once what Oliver came here to tell you . . . that the Double Jackpot was rich with gold? That you've made a new strike in it. I wanted so much to have you tell me! Oh, Clifford, I want the truth."

"What a fool I am!" Morley Thought. "She heard that jackass shouting when he came in. How much more did she hear?"

"You don't imagine I take what a man like Oliver tells me to be 100 per cent true, do you? It shows how little you understand business. All right, the mine may have had a lucky strike! But how good a one? I've learned never to get excited over good news quickly."

"You mean you would have told me when you were sure?"

"I'd have bought you the moon and a thousand stars first, wrapped them in a million kisses and delivered the package to you myself."

"Morley was right," Audrey thought. "What difference did it make whether she heard of the gold strike now or later? If only something in her mind could make her forget Gordon's accusations, stop making her ask questions.

"That car that Oliver was in was his own, not borrowed?" she persisted.

"I don't know. Why do you ask that?"

"I caught the license number." She lied and didn't quite know the reason that prompted her to do it.

"Did you? Why did you do that?" Morley was angry.

"Because I've heard that Oliver is an ex-convict." Again she lied as she said, "I checked up on the number by telephone. The car is registered in his name."

Morley lighted a cigaret .This was something to answer slowly. "Perhaps he likes expensive cars."

"But you told me in front of him that he was broke and needed a job, didn't you?"

"Yes, I did. That's what he told me!"

"Then I don't want him to butler here, or have a job at the mine."

Morley walked out of the room abruptly. She heard him drive off in his car.

Dinner that night was very formal. Morley was in his dinner clothes. Audrey was dressed in glittering green and looked like a mermaid. She was quite gay, asked for champagne and seemed to have completely forgotten their afternoon conversation.

They turned on the radio and danced between courses. She showed Morley some new steps that she added to her own way of doing La Conga. He approved and they tried them together.

Morley was delighted with the sudden shift in her mood and tried not to change it. He was brilliantly witty. They talked over many of their old escapes in New York night clubs. Cafe society in El Morocco, the Stork club, Monte Carlo and Twenty-One. They laughed together good-naturedly.

It was 10 o'clock when she followed him into the library. She was now standing in front of the mirror sipping a brandy.

"She said: "Oh, how was your visit this afternoon, Cliff?"

"Visit? Visit where?" he asked. "What visit?"

"You were gone a long time, I was wondering—"

"I went to town to see if the lawyer had filed your deed to the mine property."

"Had he?" she asked.

"Yes perfectly!" He strolled over to the window and looked out toward the mountains, saw nothing but darkness. His face displayed no emotion.

Turning around, she said: "Clifford."

"Yes?"

"Why didn't you tell me all about Oliver at Moonhollow?"

"What was there to tell? He did his work well! There was no need to rip out his past."

"But he lived in this house with you and Laurie as your best friend, and at Moonhollow he was your servant?"

"So Gordon Blake told you that, too?" he blustered. He looked at her in astonishment. "My best friend? That's another joke!"

"Did you two discuss me behind my back?" Audrey said.

"No, of course not."

"That would be absurd to believe, with so many opportunities."

"Take my word we didn't." He frowned. He was annoyed.

"Clifford, Cora Leroy telephoned you today." She let the words fall on him like acid.

"So she's in town!"

"You still see her?"

"Not when I can help it."

"I took a very unpleasant message from her for you, about some dynamite coming your way from the Gold Nugget. Is that a code message?"

"Look here, Audrey! You must trust me. When there is anything to worry about, let me worry for both of us."

"Clifford, there are still some unanswered questions running round in my head."

Morley's eyelids fluttered. "Lots in mine, too!" He laughed, but not convincingly. "People get crazy ideas." Audrey moved a step closer, "Forget them, my pet!"

"I've loved you very much, Clifford," she murmured.

"Still love me, my sweet, until death do us part, as I love you."

She looked at him through her darkened lashes. It was a marvelous look, a look that few men could have resisted.

"And always will," her voice was suaver than ever.

Audrey calmed, asked again in a persistent voice: "Did you know that Gordon Blake found Laurie's two Pekingese dogs and her parrot in your attic?"

He turned on her sharply. "So he's been prowling, has he? Infernal impudence!"

"He took them to a laboratory and had them analyzed."

Morley stared at her: "That's outrageous!"

"The bones contained radium. They are still phosphorescent like your hand was in the hospital." Her voice trembled. This blow struck him hard.

"Don't make a fool of yourself, Audrey; don't believe what that liar tells you! Blake loves you and wants to get you away from me. He'll go to any length to accomplish it. But this last effort is childish! Radium! It's a joke!" He was excited. He walked up and down nervously.

"Clifford, why did you marry Laurie Iverson?"

"Why did I marry Laurie? Good God! That's a question! The reason any man marries a woman, I suppose."

"You mean that you loved her?"

"No, I was not in love with her."

She repeated the same question.

"I was her glamour boy. I suppose the idea of it flattered my vanity until I got sick and tired of it."

"And she was rich, Clifford?"

"Yes, she was rich! You know it!" He stuck out his chin mutinously. "Don't you understand that the Double Jackpot gold mine is worth millions. Laurie didn't know how to spend the money she had. I showed her. I tell you I made her the happiest woman you ever saw!"

"I'm glad it was like that for her," she said softly. "Clifford, is death by radium poisoning painful?"

Morley winced. He began twisting the fingers of his artificial hand.

"I'm speaking to you, Clifford."

"Yes; yes, I heard you . . . Damn inconsiderate mentioning a thing like that to me."

"But is it?" she repeated unflinchingly.

He did not answer for a moment, then he laughed unpleasantly.

"Laurie died of it, didn't she, Clifford?"

"No! No!" he said vehemently. "See here, Audrey, you aren't giving either of us a good time. Be yourself. Think of my feelings, damn you!"

"I told you this morning, there are things I must know about."

He moved over to her, sniffing at her perfumed hair. "Smells good. Remember the kind I used to buy you?" He had to divert her mind.

"Rather . . ."

"Pretty good those days together?"

"Awfully good. Clifford, I want to know . . ." she began.

"You still love me, darling, that's enough for you to know!"

"Love is quiet and steady and sure. It's a fire burning all the time, not a quick blaze." Audrey's fingers played with the clasp at her bracelet. "Clifford . . ."

"M . . . m." His reply was indistinct. "If I say something to you that is probably outrageously impertinent, will you be offended?"

He turned around. "Yes, I will. So don't say it."

"But I've got to. Clifford, why didn't you get a divorce from Laurie when you no longer enjoyed your role of glamour boy?"

His face hardened; the bland expression died out of it. He took a cigaret from her case and began lighting it.

"I told you I might offend you," she said. "Have I?"

"You haven't offended me."

"Well, then, why didn't you?"

"You don't understand, my dear girl."

"Your answer is most important to both of us."

He considered for a moment. "Naturally I asked Laurie to divorce me, but she refused."

"No woman can make a man live with her unless he wants to."

Tavern Keepers Propose Own Curb As Curb on Vice

COLUMBUS — (NS) — Designed to stamp out vice conditions in Columbus and Franklin county, the County Tavern Keepers' association has urged suspension of dancing in places selling liquor in the county and a closing hour of midnight for these places for the duration of the war.

The association also is on record as being opposed to "strip tease and any obscene or vulgar exhibition" in liquor and beer spots.

The recommendations were seen as the result of the tavern keepers' intent of cooperating with Col. O. M. Baldinger, commandant of Lockbourne air base who demanded that vice in Columbus and Franklin county be cleaned up or he would "do something about it."

MR. FISH WINS AND TALKS--WE PRINT IT, WE DON'T EXPLAIN IT

(By International News Service)

NEWBURGH, N. Y. — Rep. Hamilton Fish, pre-Pearl Harbor isolationist renominated Republican candidate for congress in President Roosevelt's home election district, today charged Wendell L. Willkie with "impeding the nation's all out efforts to win the war."

Calling for "national unity for all-out service and sacrifice to win the war" and predicting his "easy triumph" in he fall elections, Fish pointed to the opposition of Willkie, 1940 GOP presidential nominee, in his campaign for renomination and declared:

"For every single fanatical Republican interventionist who wants to continue to fight prewar battles and to that extent aid and abe. the enemy, there are at least two Democrats who will vote for me and support me as a protest against that type of campaign.

"Mr. Willkie and a handful of rabid interventionists are trying to capitalize on the war for political purposes and use it in an effort to seize the leadership of the Republican party. In this they are doing a great disservice to national unity . . . and are impeding the nation's all out efforts to win the war."

SHORTAGE OF WORKERS

CHICAGO —(U.P.)— Seventy-one firms engaged in war production in the Chicago area recently called upon the Illinois Institute of Technology's women's defense training courses for 185 women, or more than twice the number available.

Greenland is the world's most sparsely inhabited area, with .04 persons per square mile.

LIFT PIG CROP

OKLAHOMA CITY—(U.P.)—The "food for victory" program has brought a 45 per cent increase in Oklahoma's spring pig crop, the department of agricultural statistics reported.

The pig crop was estimated at 978,000 saved, compared with 676,000 last year. Increase for the nation was 25 per cent—15 per cent greater than the best previous crop in 1933.

Heir Dies After House-Breaking Episode

BROADWAY

—By Dorothy Kilgallen

(Note: Slithering from Helen Hayes' drawing room to Mr. Billingsley's bar is all in a night's play for Mark Hanna, wit, raconteur and man-about-town. If he weren't so utterly fascinating, I would never have let him use my typewriter to do this satire on a Broadway column—guess whose? D. K.)

Mark Hanna's Column—

You Can't Print That!

Basil X was deeply enamored of Chloe Z, but her old man, a professional picket for the men-who-put-the-icings-on-cake-guild, was dead set against it. His argument was that Basil never held a job for over two weeks. But Basil did get a job and he held it so old man Z didn't object anymore and Chloe married Basil and everything was jake.

But you can't print that. Do you know why? Well, kids, the reason is only because it's the dullest story imaginable and if Hemingway wrote it and it had double-truck roto layouts in all the Sunday papers and it was ballyhooed over the Kate Smith hour and Jerome Kern wrote special music and Clifton Fadiman put it on his "must" list, it would still produce nothing but ennui—which is highbrow for boredom.

Did You Know That:

Damascus is the oldest city?

You should always whittle away from yourself and never toward?

It very seldom rains in Aden, Arabia?

There was a pitcher on the old, old St. Louis Cardinals whose name was Doaks?

Two wrongs don't make a right?

You Meet Such Interesting People:

If she's wearing a dress, it isn't Margie Hart! . . . When you hear someone say, "Here comes Billy Rose," you can rest assured that Billy Rose is in the offing.

Speaking For Myself—

I like a bed to sleep in . . . My idea of heaven is to have a very good income and plenty of time to do it in . . . I always prefer soda with Scotch in it . . . Can't stand guys with guns in their hands.

Dulcy And Her Agent or Moe Says No.

Scene: An agent's office in the Jollity building.

Props: One water cooler, one couch, one hat rack, one desk, one (disconnected) phone, one cigar (in agent's kisser), one chair, one agent.

Dulcy enters right: Dulcy is a fugitive from McGuffey's Fourth Reader—she's even a fugitive from McGuffey. Resplendent in a lovely gown by the Newark Bag and Twine — a Carnegie (institute) skimmer and shoes by Ralbestos, she crosses stage—stops center, takes a long look at the works—but sees nobody! (Of course that's his name. Mister Moe Nobody.)

Moe is wearing what the well-dressed man threw away. At opening Moe is giving himself a good frisking. This consists of taking ten per cent from his pistol pocket and transferring it to a grouch-bag that he wears around his neck. He finds that he's cheated himself in the process and is amazed and pleased at his own cupidity. He looks up . . .

Dulcy: Moe?
Moe: What?
Dulcy: Anything?
Moe: No!
Exit Dulcy.

I Wonder—

What's become of Sally? Technocracy? The Black Eagle? Genuine French Vermouth? Alsab at 2 to 5? Oscar Shaw at $7.70 tops? Decalcamania?

HOLLYWOOD

—By Robbin Coons

HOLLYWOOD — Amos and Andy, who started the parade of air stars to the screen with "Check and Double Check" in 1930, may do another movie soon. "Check" was a perfect example of a bad movie, and the big grosses it won on its stars' popularity didn't console them.

A fan mag cover inquires if Madeleine Carroll is married to Stirling Hayden. A check of the news files for several weeks back would solve the puzzler in the affirmative, which goes to show how little the stars are caring about editorial deadlines—or editorial gray hairs.

Coons

As if the world weren't uncertain enough already, the movie people have to go around adding to the confusion. Like Lana Turner, who one day told a fan magger she was "through with men," and next evening eloped with Stephen Crane. Or like Joan Crawford, who was going to shout her romance to the sky if she had one—and within a week turned up married to Phil Terry. It looks as if the glam-gals have stumbled upon a fundamental truth: The way to keep a secret is to keep quiet about it.

ZORINA may not have been Sam Wood's first choice — or Ernest Hemingway's either — for "For Whom The Bell Tolls," but Paramount is throwing pictures her way just the same. Already assigned: "Hostages," the story of the martyred town of Lidice, and "Hour Before Dawn," by Somerset Maugham.

Lillian Gish, back in pictures for the Paul Muni "Commandos," is being talked for "The Song of Bernadette." Never a more spiritual type in pictures than Lillian Gish—until Ingrid Bergman came along.

The sarong girl Frances Gifford will burlesque as the movie queen in "Henry Aldrich Gets Glamour," is Paramount's own Dorothy Lamour.

THE script of "Mrs. Miniver" made Dame May Whitty as Lady Belden award the prize to the Mrs. Miniver rose, but Dame May privately preferred the Lady Belden . . . Dame May has another prize role in "Flesh and Fantasy," which is also Charles Boyer's first production job. Starred, Boyer shares production credit with Director Julien Duvivier, who previously directed "Tales of Manhattan."

"In "They Got Me Covered" Bob Hope plays a different sort of movie newspaper reporter. Bob's reporter will be neatly dressed and he will not be a barfly—after the opening of course, when he's shown drinking from a water-cooler . . . labeled "Vodka!"

NAVY OFFICERS TAKE STAND IN MIDWAY INQUIRY

Grand Jury Seeks to Determine If Chicago Paper Revealed Military Information.

(By International News Service)

CHICAGO—Statements of naval officers summoned in the federal grand jury investigation of a story in the Chicago Tribune on the Midway Island battle were to be concluded today.

William D. Mitchell, New York attorney, assigned as special prosecutor by Attorney General Francis Biddle, said he expected to be finished with the navy men at today's session.

Seven naval officers, among them Rear Admiral Frederick Carl Sherman, were interviewed yesterday by Mitchell and it was reported that five of them appeared before the grand jury, but this could not be confirmed.

Mitchell declined to say whether he had called any of them before the jury and Admiral Sherman was equally reticent. The latter, then a captain, was in command of the aircraft carrier Lexington in the battle of the Coral sea in which the Lexington eventually was sunk. He was promoted to his present rank for valor in that engagement.

He was accompanied to Mitchell's temporary office in the U. S. court house by Commander M. T. Seligman, who was chief executive officer with him on the ill-fated aircraft carrier. Seligman likewise refused to say if he had been before the grand jury. The identity of the other naval officers was not disclosed.

The story inspiring the investigation was written by Stanley Johnson, Tribune war correspondent, who also was aboard the Lexington. It was written after he returned to the United States and was published June 7.

It gave in some detail the probable composition and strength of the Jap naval forces which sailed to attack Midway island only to meet crushing defeat. The grand jury is asked to determine if an indictment is warrented on the ground that the information was confidential and its publication violated the espionage act of 1917 as amended in 1940.

BOTH MAJORS

Dr. C. L. Shafer, Dr. H. B. Peck Receive Commissions.

Hiking the total of Mansfield doctors in the armed forces to 21, two more are scheduled to leave Aug. 25 for the army air base at Albuquerque, N. M. Both commissioned as majors this week, they are Dr. Charles L. Shafer and Dr. Howard B. Peck.

Major Shafer came to Mansfield in 1925 with a child health demonstration. After two years in public health service he opened his own office. For the time being Mrs. Shafer will remain in Mansfield.

Mansfield eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, Major Peck set up practice here in 1936. He was previously at St. Luke's and Lakeside hospitals in Cleveland. Mrs. Peck and their year-old son will stay here for the present.

Both Major Peck and Major Shafer are graduates of Western Reserve medical school in Cleveland.

Two other Mansfield doctors holding commissions as majors enter service next week. Paul A. Stoodt will report Monday at Louisville, Ky., and F. J. Heringhaus has orders to report Aug. 21, at Langley Field, Va.

JAIL SUSPECT

Police Make Arrest After Man Steals Purse In Home.

A colored Mansfield resident is being questioned by Mansfield police in connection with the burglary of the home of Mrs. Raymond Kindinger, 406 Uorth Mulberry street, yesterday about 11 p. m.

Police arrested the man, a Lily street resident, early today upon Mrs. Kindinger's description of the man she saw fleeing from her living room. She later identified the suspect as the same man. A purse containing $1 and personal belongings was taken from the home.

JONES BALKS AT CHAIRMANSHIP

M'Sweeney's Campaign Chief Doesn't Want Job That Seems Headed His Way.

(By United Press)

NEWARK — Important Ohio Democrats have agreed that Darrell S. Jones is the "moses" to lead the party to victory in the November election.

Hardly a dissenting voice to his selection has been heard—except that of Jones himself.

Jones is a close friend of John McSweeney of Wooster, the Democratic nominee for governor. They first met a few years ago when McSweeney was state welfare director and Jones was assistant director. Since then, Jones has been his political adviser and has helped run his campaigns.

"I don't want to be state chairman," Jones said. "Personally, I haven't any desire for the job. Furthermore, I don't feel I can spare the time from my business. I'm pretty much tied up in a lot of things right here that should have my attention."

He is a real estate and insurance broker.

Jones was asked if he could be induced to take the job because of his friendship with McSweeney.

"I just don't know," he replied. "I can't answer that now. I wouldn't want to be state chairman unless I could do an honest job of it, devote the necessary time and do the kind of a job that ought to be done.

"Put it this way—I'm not a candidate for the job and honestly don't want it. That is how I feel about it now."

Audience to Hiss, Cheer Tonight at Gay Nineties Show

Tonight's audience at the Gay Nineties revue, Children's theater production to be staged at South Park pavilion, will be asked to cheer the hero and hiss the villian when the old-time melodrama, "The Villian Still Pursued Her," is presented.

The program that opens at 8:30 p. m. with a minstrel show will later introduce such popular personalities of yesterday as Faye Templeton, John L. Sullivan and Anna Held.

Directed by Harold McCuen the production will feature a dancing group from the Ethyl Battin studio and a group of singers coached by Mrs. Charles Anglin. Mrs. O. I. Alverson was in charge of costumes and Mrs. Estes Thompson of properties.

'JINX' OKAYED

Actress Goes to Court to Make Nickname Legal.

HOLLYWOOD — (INS) — Jinx Falkenburg today bore the name of Jinx Falkenburg, not that she hasn't borne it before, but now it's legal.

Under her real name of Eugenia Falkenburg, the artists' and photographers' model, tennis star and actress hardly would be identified by her public. So she went into court of Superior Judge Emmet Wilson and had her real name changed.

"All my life I've been known as just plain Jinx," she said.

UNCLE SAM ASKS WOMEN TO TOTE THEIR BUNDLES MORE

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON—Uncle Sam today apealed to American housewives to tote their own bundles as an added contribution to the nation's war effort.

The ladies, already digging into attics for scrap rubber, metal and old rags and saving the drippings from the breakfast bacon, were urged to assume this additional duty to help conserve the country's delivery trucks.

Defense Transportation Director Joseph B. Eastman explained:

"If the housewives space their purchases so that fewer trips are necessary and carry their own packages wherever possible, they will be doing their country a real service in this emergency."

A majority of the nation's 5,000,000 motor trucks, ODT officials said, are private and contract carriers serving department stores, firms, bakeries, dairies, drug stores and the like.

They have already been ordered to make only one delivery a day to a customer, eliminate call-backs and special deliveries and reduce mileage 25 per cent, but the consumer can also help.

"The ODT orders can set the pace, but they need public support to get the best results," officials said. "If the operator of a local delivery service knows that the housewives in the community stand behind his efforts to reduce mileage, his task will be far easier."

APPROVE CLAIMS

Commissioners Pay $808 to Farmers Losing Sheep.

Animal claims totaling $808 for July had been approved today by county commissioners. Claims jumped nearly $300 over the June figure and were among the highest for any month in recent years.

Payments are made from the county dog and kennel fund to farmers whose sheep and other livestock are killed by dogs.

Four claims submitted for July were for amounts in excess of $100. A total of 12 claims were turned in to commissioners, three by one farmer.

Payments authorized by the commissioners included:

Clyde Berry, $17; Harley Bollinger, $104; Ralph Christ, $26; C. W. Ehret, $24; D. M. Harding, $1.76; Richard McFarland, $183; Wilbur Rhoades, $12; M. N. Sauer, $126; J. A. Shea, $40, and Grover Snyder, three claims for $52, $16, and $32.

OHIO FIRM HIT

Union Official Charges Pay Rates Are Sub-standard.

COLUMBUS — (INS)— Charging that the Kilgore Manufacturing Co. of Westerville is paying "sub-standard" wages, J. R. Burris, sub-regional director of District 50 of the United Mine Workers of America, wired Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins asking an investigation. He also seeks appointment of a panel for hearing wage demands before the NLRB.

EX-MANSFIELD RESIDENT DIES

Cloyd Hassinger, 41, Succumbs at Pontiac, Mich.

Word has been received of the death of Cloyd Hassinger, 41, former Mansfield resident, who died Wednesday at Pontiac, Mich., after a short illness.

Mr. Hassinger lived in Mansfield for several years, being employed by the Ohio Brass company. He moved to Pontiac eight years ago.

Survivors are a brother, Eugene Hassinger; and three sisters, Mrs. Leroy Brickley, Mrs. John Scheurer and Mrs. Harold Kline, all of Mansfield.

Boy Scout officials are reminiscing over a number of old snapshots uncovered yesterday while cleaning out files at Scout headquarters. The two candidates who would be expected to file their campaign expense reports first lived up to expectations today and turned in their reports to the county election board ahead of all the others. They were Norman L. Wolfe and Alden H. Heath, candidates for county auditor and both auditors by profession. Wolfe, Democratic candidate for re-election, listed primary expenditures totaling $10. Heath, the Republican candidate, reported spending $21.46. Neither had opposition in the primary.

Workers at the Red Cross executive offices are literally moving their desks from pillar to post this week as the job of fall housecleaning moves forward. Paper hangers have taken over in the three front rooms and painters are expected to do a small redecoration job since the main painting program will be deferred until later. The offices are being cleared of everything that is not strictly essential to make way for the extensive wartime program that gets under way Sept. 1.

Twelve Mansfielders and former residents of the city got together recently at a park in Louisville, Ky., for an impromptu picnic and reunion after they happened to meet in the Kentucky city. The group included Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Gressmer, who live in Louisville; Mrs. Helen Burkholder who was visiting them and Robert Flohr and Lawrence Murphy, former members of The News-Journal staff, who were stationed at Fort Knox, near Louisville. Flohr has just been transferred to Camp Campbell, a new training center near Clarksville, Tenn., where he is a clerk in the headquarters division.

MEETING SET

City's Industrialists to Hear New Materials Plan.

Several industrialists from the Mansfield area will go to Cleveland Tuesday to hear Donald M. Nelson, War Production Board chief, explain thep roduction rechief, explain the production replaced the priority number system in industry.

John G. Routzon, secretary-manager of the Mansfield Chamber of Commerce, said today that representatives from several Mansfield firms would make the trip.

Routzon said that firms getting war contracts no longer need make application for materials for war production through the priorities system. Under the production requirements plan, the government will set aside sufficient materials, car-marking it when any contracts are awarded.

Nelson and other WPB officials will explain the requirements plan in an effort to clear up confusion resulting from the change over from the priorities plan, according to Routzon.

DODGE SCION HURT IN FALL AFTER ARREST

Suffers Fatal Stroke Following Party Marked By Fight With His Wife.

(By International News Service)

DETROIT—John Duval Dodge, heir to the Dodge motor fortune, was dead today, the victim of a cerebral hemorrhage apparently caused by a fall after he was arrested on suspicion of housebreaking.

The 43-year-old motor heir died at 10:18 p. m. yesterday in the receiving hospital where he had been placed in an oxygen tent.

His second wife, Dora MacDonald Kline Dodge, who was at the hospital where he lay unconscious, had just left his room when death came.

An autopsy was to be performed today by Coroner Edmund J. Knoblock.

Dodge, who was the son of John F. Dodge, founder with his brother, Horace, of the Dodge Automobile company, was arrested early Wednesday when he attempted to enter the home of Howard Lange to visit Miss Mignon Fontaine, 33, according to police.

While Dodge and Miss Fontaine were drinking in the Lange home Tuesday evening, the motor scion's wife, who had been visiting next door, came over to borrow some ice, Prosecutor William E. Dowling said.

In the quarrel that followed, according to the prosecutor, Dodge struck his wife, severely cutting her upper lip.

Miss Fontaine fled from the house, the prosecutor said, and Dodge left but returned later and attempted to force his way into the home.

A neighbor, seeing Dodge attempt to enter the Lange home through a second-story porch, called police.

While Dodge was in custody, he fell off a bench and suffered a cerebral hemorrhage, police said. Dr. Alvis D. Finch said that Dodge also had fractures in the skull and neck.

Miss Fontaine offered her version to police.

"I heard somebody yelling 'extra, extra.' I opened the door and there was Mr. Dodge on the porch. I let him in.

"My boy friend was there and we had a few drinks. Mr. Dodge sent out for another quart of Scotch and a quart of rye. He even went out to see if he could get an accordion player to play for us but he couldn't find one. Pretty soon my boy friend left, but Mr. Dodge stayed.

"Then while we were drinking, Mrs. Dodge came to the door. She had a cut glass bowl and she said she wanted to borrow some ice cubes.

"Mr. Dodge was surprised to see her, and he got mad.

"What's the idea — coming around here and spying on me," he asked her.

"Then he swung his fist and hit her in the mouth. I didn't wait to see any more. I ran out and hid in the shrubbery on the lawn."

Reports Birth Of Fifth Child To Lindberghs

DETROIT —(U.P.)— The Detroit Free Press said today that Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh gave birth to a daughter in the Henry Ford hospital last night.

The hospital would not deny or confirm the report.

The child was the fifth born to the Lindberghs. Their first, Charles A. Lindbergh, jr., was kidnaped and murdered in 1932. Jon Morrow was born August 2, 1932, Land Morrow, May 12, 1937, and a daughter in 1940.

The Lindberghs were married May 27, 1929. He is now employed in the experimental engineering department of the Ford Motor company's aviation division.

'FINDS' UNCLE

Officer Checks In Soldier, Learns It's His Mother's Brother.

"You wouldn't be my Uncle Jim from Steubenville, O., would you?"

"Yes, sir."

The lieutenant looked up to see his mother's brother for the first time in 10 years.

'NEW ORLEANS' FIRST BOOK IN SEAPORT SERIES

City's Library Gets Volume Tracing History of City In New Book List.

One of America's most colorful seaports, that at New Orleans, furnishes the locale for Harold Sinclair's new book, "The Port of New Orleans," the first of the new "Seaport Series" published by Doubleday Doran, to be circulated by the Mansfield Public Library.

The author traces the history of the city over which have flown the French, British, Spanish and American flags and which, although it is typically American, still retains an atmosphere that is definitely foreign.

Another new book, "Foreign Devil," by Gordon Enders is a sort of non-fiction American "Kim" Major Enders, official American representative in Afghanistan, tells the story of his life in India and Tibet and makes is as exciting a narrative as any Kipling might have written.

ONE MAN'S MEAT by E. B. White "is not", says the author, "a book on How to Farm with a Portable Corona. This is a book on a wide variety of subjects, both urban and rural It is intensely personal, but not designed to prove anything—in short, it is a book about me-and-life." For years Mr. White has contributed to the "New Yorker"— his department in "Harper's Magazine" is extremely popular—and he is known as the co-editor of "A Sub-Treasury of American Humor."

OTHER NON-FICTION:

CONDITIONS OF PEACE by Carr; PROPAGANDA BY SHORT WAVE by Childs and Whitton; PROBLEMS OF LASTING PEACE by Hoover and Gibson; THE MILKY WAY by Bok; MacARTHUR ON WAR ed. by Waldrop; BIRTH CERTIFICATES by Davis; REPRESENTATIVE NORTH AMERICAN FRESH-WATER FISHES by Nichols; WOMEN OF THE CONFEDERACY by Simkins and Patton; WALK YOUR WAY TO BETTER DANCING by Hostetler.

TAP ROOTS by James Street continues the story of the Dabneys, begun in "Oh, Promised Land." Strong and greedy, they ruled southern Mississippi just before the Civil war. While, basically, it is the saga of the slavery-hating Southerners, who tried to prevent the war, it is with the lives and loves of the Dabneys that the author is most vitally concerned. "Tap Roots" is a vigorous, colorful and swashbuckling adventure-romance.

OUT ON ANY LIMB by John Myers has for its hero Ingram Applegarth, gentleman and rogue, and is a rousing story of the turbulent and dazzling days of Queen Elizabeth. With two new friends, he enters the service of Sir Roger Stukely whose enemy, Lord Trammell, is a common foe. When Applegarth falls in love with Sir Roger's pretty ward and takes it upon himself to solve the mystery of her father's murder—exciting things begin to happen. Mr. Myers is also the author of "The Harp and the Blade."

NO COMMON GLORY by David Pilgrim is an historical novel of the days of Charles II The story concerns the early career of James de la Cloche who played a considerable part in seventeenth century politics. Reputed to be the son of Charles II and Marguerite de Carteret, he was presented to both the French and English courts, met Voltaire, developed a distinct liking for the theater, and had fought a duel before he was twenty

OTHER FICTION:

TAKE TO THE HILLS by Lyon, RED IS FOR KILLING by Bagby, DUST OF THE TRAIL by Foster.

THEATERS

Wartime Romance.

"This Above All," the first great wartime love story to reach the screen, opens Friday at the Ohio with Joan Fontaine, 1941 Academy Award winner, and Tyrone Power in the leading roles. The story has to do with two people who find romance, one a deserter from the British army after Dunkirk, and the other as a member of England's WAAF's. The war scenes include a London bombing by Nazi planes and many other exciting episodes. Thomas Mitchell and Philip Merivale are among the players.

Career Comedy.

The old order of romance between a male boss and a female secretary is reversed in the gay comedy, "Take a Letter, Darling," opening Saturday at the Madison. Rosalind Russell and Fred MacMurray play the leads in this modern story dealing with a career woman who hires a male secretary to placate jealous wives while she goes after their husbands' accounts. Mitchell Leisen directed the picture and the cast includes MacDonald Carey, leading man to Gertrude Lawrence in Broadway's "Lady In the Dark." Robert Benchley and Cecil Kellaway are among the players. "Sweater Girl" with Eddie Bracken is the second attraction.

Aerial Thriller.

"Canal Zone," with Chester Morris, Harriet Hilliard and John Hubbard is showing at the Park. Tom Keene is featured in the second feature, "Western Mail."

Broadway Comedy.

A professional safe-cracker who decides to go straight but who is forced by cimcumstances to pull one last job to insure the future of a baby is the leading character in Damon Runyan's story, "Butch Minds the Baby," showing at the Ritz. Broderick Crawford plays the role and the supporting cast includes Virginia Bruce and Nick Foran. The second picture, "The Masked Rider," featuring Johnny Mack Brown, deals with a bandit gang which plunders and robs a silver mine in pioneer Mexico.

Westinghouse Club Wins City Softball Championship

Sport Podge by REX HESS

"Where can I get a golf lesson, but fast, and good?" panted tall Bruce McGinty, center of the Mansfield high school basketball team of two seasons ago.

"I gotta have one quick, and in the way it'll do the most good too," he explained. "My brother, Lt. Dave McGinty of the balloon barrage, is home on furlough, and he and my dad (Roy) have challenged me to a golf match on Saturday. And me, like a dope, I accept the challenge.

"And I've played only one round of golf in my life, and if I lose this match I'll never live it down. What am I gonna do?"

Sorry, Bub, I fear you're a little bit late for lessons.

McGinty recently was awarded a scholarship by Ohio Wesleyan university and expects to enter the Delaware school this fall. In fact he's all signed up.

And now he gets a letter from Lars Wagner, basketball and baseball coach of the Battling Bishops, congratulating him on his choice of Ohio Wesleyan, and predicting that he'll be a big help to the Methodist cage club.

You can say that again, brother. Big Bruce picked up a lot of fancy tricks in the city league last winter.

Says Bill Snypp in the Lima News:

"Charleston's all-year position as first-place club in the Mid-Atlantic circuit can be traced largely to the performances of three former Ohio State leaguers, Catcher Ralph Weigel, and Pitchers Don Bayliss and Chuck Byers."

I hope, William, you are not forgetting Mansfield's Lefty Bob Irish Kuzava, whose 16th victory of the season for Charleston was a 7-0 victory over Erie on six hits. I'm not too sure, but I believe that was Lefty Bob's sixth shutout victory of the year.

Fremont's Freddie Gerken, the first sacker who acted as manager of the Green Sox on most of their road trips around the Ohio State league wheel last summer, is credited by Dayton sports writers with the greatest fielding play of the season in the Mad-A.

Dayton was leading Erie 1-0, and the Sailers had men on first and second with two out when the Erie batter smashed a hot grounder past the second baseman toward right field, which would have scored the tying run from second.

But Gerken, racing to his right, dived for the ball, skidded on his nose, but scooped the apple to the shortstop for a force play, ending the inning. And Dayton won, 1-0.

The way these Ohio Staters are tearing up the Mid-Atlantic, I'm beginning to believe we had a pretty fast league here last summer, after all.

COACH NAMED

Get Seven Runs In Two Late-Inning Rallies

Take Third Victory of Series Over Ohio Public Service 11-7

WESTINGHOUSE today owns the city softball championship on a 3 and 1 victory basis in their city series with Ohio Public Service, chalking up the third win last evening before another big crowd at Johns park, 11 to 7.

The Westies' power at the plate proved the deciding factor as the new champs staged two late-inning rallies to overtake and pass the battling O. P. S. club.

But the deciding punch came from two unexpected sources. Pitcher Aid Geiger smacked a home run into the Johns park tennis court in the sixth inning, driving in two runs and tying up the ball game at 7-7.

And Freddie Lewis, who saw most of the game from the bench, scored the winning run in the eighth with a home run drive to the clubhouse in left center.

John Fike, Y. M. C. A. physical director, announced that individual medals have been presented to the champions, but that the team trophy, now on order, has not yet arrived.

Last night's game started out as a nip-and-tuck battle. Each team scored in the second inning, O. P. S. on a home run by Hazlett, and Westinghouse on a single, two walks, and a fly to center.

O. P. S. came back with three runs in the third, two of them scoring on wild pitches, but Westinghouse put four straight singles together for two markers in their half of the same frame, and tied it up in the fourth when Schaefer doubled and made the circuit on two wild pitches.

Two singles and three walks gave O. P. S. two more runs in the fifth and they added another in the sixth on Leiter's home run, to make it 7-4. That was the cue for Westinghouse to turn on the power.

Beery, leading off in the sixth, drew a walk, and scored on Bud Woerth's double, and Geiger lofted his circuit clout to the tennis courts to tie the score at 7-7.

With one down in the eighth, Lewis drove a long fly to left center which Oswalt lost in a group of spectators, and it rolled to the clubhouse for a home run and the deciding marker. But the Westies weren't through. Woerth's long fly to right center bounced out of Mapes' hands for a three-base error, and Geiger reached first on a bunt while Woerth held third. Forman singled two runs across the platter, and took second on the throw home. And Shade scored Forman with another single. That was enough.

Tribe Breaks Losing Streak

Hockett Clouts 3-Run Double In 9th Inning.

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Oris Hockett worked a cinema finish into the way he broke up his share of a batting slump which has plagued the Indians lately.

The freshman right fielder took an hour's batting practice before yesterday's game with the Tigers, and collected dividends in a fashion that had the customers groggy.

Going into the last of the ninth inning, Detroit was leading 2-0 despite tight pitching by Jim Bagby, and the Tribe had acquired only four singles off Virgil Trucks—one of them by Hockett in the sixth.

Les Fleming opened by sending a fly to Barne, McCosky. Manager Boudreau and Pinch Hitter Otto Denning walked, and Pinch Hitter Chubby Dean forced Denning for the second out. Al Milnar, batting for Bagby, won a pass to fill the bases, and young Jack Wilson came in to replace Trucks.

Hockett waited until the count was three and two, fouled off six fast pitches and then slammed a double off the right field screen. Milnar came in with the third and winning run to beat the relayed throw and the contest was over. Hockett was the only Indian to get two safeties, and his double was the Redskins' only extra-base hit.

The verdict ended Cleveland's losing streak at six games, and permitted the Tribe to gain half a game on the idle Boston Red Sox, who found their second place margin cut to one game. It was Bagby's 13th victory against five losses.

Detroit tallied an unearned run in the second inning on an error by Boudreau, between singles by Murray Franklin and Dixie Parsons. The other Tiger run came in the sixth, when Doc Cramer doubled and scored on outs by McCosky and Pinky Higgins.

The Indians were idle today but will be hosts tomorrow night to the St. Louis Browns.

BASKETBALL COACH NAMED BY ELYRIA

ELYRIA — (AP) — Paul Hoernemann, whose New Philadelphia high school basketball team won the state title in 1939-40 season, has been hired as head basketball coach and assistant football coach at Elyria high school.

Hoernemann, who graduated from Heidelberg college in 1938, succeeds Ralph F. Bauer, commissioned a first lieutenant in the Army Air Corps.

Elks Retain League Lead

Morgan-Byrnes Match Goes Four Extra Holes.

Elks maintained their two-point lead in the News-Journal "B" golf league at Possum Run last evening with a 2-1 win over Bissman's, while the second-place Tucker Furnitures were dropping a 2-3 decision to Central Fruit.

Tinkey Lumber edged Mansfield Printing 3-2, and Eagles and Moose split 1-1.

Highlight of the evening's play was the Jim Morgan-Maurice Byrnes match which went four extra holes before Morgan sank the winning putt. Wayne Anthony defeated Harry Fay in one extra hole.

Marion Ward took medal honors with a par 36, while V. H. Oberlander had a 38, and Wayne. Anthony and Frank Lay 39's.

Birds Miss Chance At First Place

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Kansas City today continued to lead the American Association pack despite their 9-4 setback last night at the hands of the Louisville Colonels.

The Columbus Red Birds, half a game behind the Blues, muffed a swell chance to take over top position when they lost, 6-4, to lowly St. Paul in a ten-inning contest. The game was tied at 3-all in the ninth, but the ineffective hurling of Relief Pitcher Ted Wilks and a dropped ball by Catcher Rae Blaemire in the tenth, proved the undoing of the Birds.

The losses by the two league leaders permitted a tightening of the AA race, however.

Milwaukee, edging Indianapolis, 6-4, slipped to one game out of first place and the "you wanna watch 'em" Toledo Mud Hens won their sixth straight game and the 11th in the last 12 starts when they copped from Minneapolis, 6-5, two full games behind the leading Blues.

BEN HOGAN SHOOTS SIX UNDER PAR

ROCHESTER — (INS) — Ben Hogan, golf's leading money winner, today had a strangle hold on first prize in the $5,000 "Times-Union" open today.

Hogan shot a six-under-par 64 in the opening round yesterday, four strokes better than his nearest opponent, Sam Byrd, the ex-baseball player.

COMMISSIONED

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — A commission as a lieutenant commander in the U. S. Naval Reserve has been given to Carl Olsen, 49-year-old track coach of the University of Pittsburgh and president of the National Track Coaches' association. A native of Ashtabula, O., he will report at Newport, R. I., Sept. 9.

Bean-Ballers Battle Again

New National Loop Rule Tested In Double Bill.

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The National league's new rule making managers subject to an automatic fine of $200 for permitting their pitchers to blaze away at a rival's noggin is due for the acid test today when the Brooklyn Dodgers and the Boston Braves collide in a doubleheader opening a five-game series.

It will be their first meeting since they spent last Saturday afternoon tucking each other's high inside pitches—an exercise that is good for the legs if executed with speed but bad for the head if it isn't.

League President Ford Frick fined Manuel Salvo of the Braves $50 and Brooklyn's Whitlow Wyatt $75 for participating in the "duster" duel and warned pitchers that they also would be fined in the future along with the managers. It cost Wyatt an extra $25 to throw his bat at Salvo.

"If other pitchers throw at our players," said Brooklyn President Larry MacPhail in discussing the new league rule, "we'll give them two for one, and I don't care whether it costs $20 or $400."

So, with Manager Leo Durocher of the Dodgers backed by MacPhail's bankroll, it is to be assumed that Professor Casey Stengel of the Braves will have his checkbook handy today in case a few well chosen pitches stray too near the region reserved for a batter's cranium.

Postponement of yesterday's bill at Ebbets Field was one of four which left the major league card with only three completed contests.

In the only one in the National league, the Chicago Cubs walloped the St. Louis Cardinals, 13-5, to drop the second-place Red Birds eight and a half games behind the Dodgers.

In the American league, the Cleveland Indians came from behind in the ninth inning to edge out the Detroit Tigers, 3-2, and the St. Louis Browns crushed the Chicago White Sox, 8-3.

American league games between Boston and New York and Washington and Philadelphia, and a National league affair between Cincinnati and Pittsburgh all were postponed.

ONE GAME PLAYED

ZANESVILLE — (AP) — Springfield defeated Zanesville 6 to 4 in the Mid-Atlantic league's only game last night. The Dayton-Canton contest was postponed.

Public Links Field Filled

Toledo Golfers Round Out Tournament Lists.

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Ohio's 13th annual "off and on again" abbreviated public links golf championship, scheduled Sunday over the 36-hole medal play route at Toledo, is expected to attract a capacity field of 125 of the state's best pay-as-you-play club swingers.

Ray Pennell of Coumbus, secretary-treasurer of he state association, said today approximately 75 non-Toledo entrants had signed up, and that the tournament city would fill the field.

The meet, generally held over two days and 72 holes, was slashed to permit war industry employes to participate. All prizes will be in war stamps and bonds, while each player in the last two tournaments who now is in the armed services will receive a carton of cigarets.

The men's sector, with Dick Rhyan of Columbus defending the title, will be played over the Heather Downs course, while the women will play over the Ottawa Hills layout, first public course in America. Mrs. Thelma Linster of Mansfield won the title the last two years and will try to make it three in a row.

Only one Toledoan has ever won the publinks men's title, Jay Krochmalny taking it in 1938. Miss Neoma Copic, now a private club player from the Maumee city, won the first of the women's championships in 1939.

After being cancelled several weeks ago, the meet was revived on the abbreviated basis by Toledo district directors.

PROVIDENTS ADD TWO ELYRIA PLAYERS

Provident Loan girls have added two Elyria players. Pitcher Feist and Rover Nettleton to their squad for play in the state tournament starting today at Akson.

The Mansfield team, twice winners of the state title, is scheduled for its first game Saturday evening at 6 o'clock, but most of the team will leave for Akron today.

Tennis Tourney Planned

News-Journal Promotes City Championships.

URGED by members of the Mansfield Tennis association to repeat its city tennis championship of last year, The News-Journal has decided to conduct the tournament after checking over the situation and discovering that enough interest apparently exists to make the project worth while.

Earlier it had been felt that the number of Mansfield tennis players entering the armed services and defense work outside the city had so depleted the ranks of Mansfield racquet swingers that a tournament this year would hardly draw enough entries to make it worth the effort.

However the situation appears to have improved in recent weeks. The Woodland tennis club is now holding its tournament, with 12 players in the lists. Five matches scheduled for this week-end will bring the tournament down to the finals, booked for the following week-end.

Woodland netters are expected to form a nucleus for at least a 16-player draw in men's singles.

Increased play this summer on the improved Maple Lakes courts has aroused interest in women's and junior play for girls and boys, and there is now the prospect of a fairly good tournament.

No entry fee will be charged in the men's division this year because of the uncertainty of the number entering. Last year the entry fee was used to buy balls, which, after use in the men's tournament, were donated to the junior tournament for further play. This year it will be necessary for all players to be prepared to furnish balls for each match, and to arrange with their opponents for the financial settlement on balls.

Junior divisions have an 18-year age limit, but players entering the boys' and girls' tourneys may also enter the senior divisions. If there are any players in two tournaments, an effort will be made to schedule matches so that they will not be a physical burden on the young players.

Originally plans were drawn up for only singles competition. Now there appears to be a demand for men's doubles, and a doubles tournament will be staged if enough entries are obtained. Men interested in doubles should attach a note to that effect to the tournament entry blank which will be found elsewhere on this page.

Entries close Monday night, and pairings will be made Tuesday afternoon for announcement in The News-Journal Wednesday. Play will start the following week-end.

Maple Lake courts, which have been placed in fine condition this summer, will be used for most of the tournament matches in all divisions. However where Woodland members meet each other in preliminary matches, they will be scheduled on their home court. Woodland players also have offered the use of their court for other players in the event the schedule piles up.

Because of the late start of this year's tournament, it will be necessary to run it off in two weeks time, or as nearly as possible to that limit. This should have the effect of keeping interest at a high pitch throughout the tournament.

Gridder Krupp To Don Gloves

Ken Meets Shocker In J. A. C. Prelim Bout.

Kenny Krupp, Mansfield high school football and basketball star of the past school year, will appear in one of the four-round preliminary bouts on the J. A. C. boxing show at the armory next Wednesday night, it was announced today.

The powerfully muscled Krupp, who has been keeping in shape this summer working at the Empire Steel plant, will meet Herm Shocker, hard-hitting Mansfield scrapper who is due for army induction in the next few weeks.

Heading the J. A. C. card will be Paul Carbetta, former Cleveland Golden Gloves and Mansfield flyweight champion, and Carl Nestel, New York state featherweight, now fighting out of Cleveland. They are booked for 10 rounds.

A six-round semi-final and four four-rounders complete the card.

Indians Buy Two Players

Get Bargain In Pair Of Oriole Infielders.

CLEVELAND—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians today announced purchase of two outstanding minor league infielders — First Baseman Eddie Robinson and Second Baseman Ted Sczepkowski of Baltimore. They will report to the Tribe Sept. 7 or Sept. 15, depending on whether Baltimore gets into the International league playoff.

Roger Peckinpaugh, Indians' vice president, said the deal was completed under Cleveland's working agreement with Baltimore, which provided the Tribe could acquire any two Orioles at a cost of $10,000 each.

"We're probably getting $100,000 worth of ball players," Peckinpaugh said. "Robinson has been one of the sensations of that league all summer and no doubt would bring $50,000 on the open market. Frank Shaughnessy, the president of the International league, was quoted last week as calling Sczepkowski a $50,000 prospect."

* * *

Robinson, 21-year-old native of Valdosta, Ga., has been batting around .304. He played with Elmira last year. Sczepkowski isn't batting .300 but Shaughnessy has called him "the greatest 18-year-old player I have ever seen." He is a native of Baltimore.

'NEW ORLEANS' FIRST BOOK IN SEAPORT SERIES

City's Library Gets Volume Tracing History of City In New Book List.

One of America's most colorful seaports, that at New Orleans, furnishes the locale for Harold Sinclair's new book, "The Port of New Orleans," the first of the new "Seaport Series" published by Doubleday Doran, to be circulated by the Mansfield Public Library.

The author traces the history of the city over which have flown the French, British, Spanish and American flags and which, although it is typically American, still retains an atmosphere that is definitely foreign.

Another new book, "Foreign Devil," by Gordon Enders is a sort of non-fiction American "Kim." Major Enders, official American representative in Afghanistan, tells the story of his life in India and Tibet and makes is as exciting a narrative as any Kipling might have written.

ONE MAN'S MEAT by E. B. White "is not", says the author, "a book on How to Farm with a Portable Corona. This is a book on a wide variety of subjects, both urban and rural. It is intensely personal, but not designed to prove anything—in short, it is a book about me-and-life." For years Mr. White has contributed to the "New Yorker"— his department in "Harper's Magazine" is extremely popular—and he is known as the co-editor of "A Sub-Treasury of American Humor."

OTHER NON-FICTION·

CONDITIONS OF PEACE by Carr; PROPAGANDA BY SHORT WAVE by Childs and Whitton; PROBLEMS OF LASTING PEACE by Hoover and Gibson THE MILKY WAY by Bok, MacARTHUR ON WAR ed. by Waldrop; BIRTH CERTIFICATES by Davis; REPRESENTATIVE NORTH AMERICAN FRESH-WATER FISHES by Nichols; WOMEN OF THE CONFEDERACY by Simkins and Patton; WALK YOUR WAY TO BETTER DANCING by Hostetler.

TAP ROOTS by James Street continues the story of the Dabneys, begun in "Oh, Promised Land." Strong and greedy, they ruled southern Mississippi just before the Civil war. While, basically, it is the saga of the slavery-hating Southerners, who tried to prevent the war, it is with the lives and loves of the Dabneys that the author is most vitally concerned. "Tap Roots" is a vigorous, colorful and swashbuckling adventure-romance.

OUT ON ANY LIMB by John Myers has for its hero Ingram Applegarth, gentleman and rogue, and is a rousing story of the turbulent and dazzling days of Queen Elizabeth. With two new friends, he enters the service of Sir Roger Stukely whose enemy, Lord Trammell, is a common foe. When Applegarth falls in love with Sir Roger's pretty ward and takes it upon himself to solve the mystery of her father's murder—exciting things begin to happen. Mr. Myers is also the author of "The Harp and the Blade."

NO COMMON GLORY by David Pilgrim is an historical novel of the days of Charles II. The story concerns the early career of James de la Cloche who played a considerable part in seventeenth century politics. Reputed to be the son of Charles II and Marguerite de Carteret, he was presented to both the French and English courts, met Voltaire, developed a distinct liking for the theater, and had fought a duel before he was twenty.

OTHER FICTION·

TAKE TO THE HILLS by Lyon; RED IS FOR KILLING by Bagby; DUST OF THE TRAIL by Foster.

SELECT NAMES

New Liberty Ships To Be Named After Historic Figures.

PORTLAND, Ore. —(U P)— Nine names of state and national figures in history have been approved by the maritime commission for identifications of Liberty ships being built in Oregon shipyards.

The national figures included are William H. Seward, secretary of state; Gideon Welles, secretary of the navy; Edwin M. Stanton, secretary of war, and Jonathan Harrington, last survivor of the original Minute Men.

Caterers' Queen

When the International Stewards' and Carpenters' association holds its 41st annual convention in Chicago, Aug. 16-19, Greta Claussen of Chicago will reign as queen. Greta, wielding a knife in the kitchen, above, will supervise activities of more than 400 caterers and stewards who gather to discuss problems of food nutrition, conservation and salvage.

THEATERS

Wartime Romance.

"This Above All," the first great wartime love story to reach the screen, opens Friday at the Ohio with Joan Fontaine, 1941 Academy Award winner, and Tyrone Power in the leading roles. The story has to do with two people who find romance, one a deserter from the British army after Dunkirk, and the other as a member of England's WAAF's. The war scenes include a London bombing by Nazi planes and many other exciting episodes. Thomas Mitchell and Philip Merivale are among the players.

Career Comedy.

The old order of romance between a male boss and a female secretary is reversed in the gay comedy, "Take a Letter, Darling," opening Saturday at the Madison. Rosalind Russell and Fred MacMurray play the leads in this modern story dealing with a career woman who hires a male secretary to placate jealous wives while she goes after their husbands' accounts. Mitchell Leisen directed the picture and the cast includes MacDonald Carey, leading man to Gertrude Lawrence in Broadway's "Lady In the Dark." Robert Benchley and Cecil Kellaway are among the players. "Sweater Girl" with Eddie Bracken is the second attraction.

Aerial Thriller.

"Canal Zone," with Chester Morris, Harriet Hilliard and John Hubbard is showing at the Park. Tom Keene is featured in the second feature, "Western Mail."

Broadway Comedy.

A professional safe-cracker who decides to go straight but who is forced by circumstances to pull one last job to insure the future of a baby is the leading character in Damon Runyan's story, "Butch Minds the Baby," showing at the Ritz. Broderick Crawford plays the role and the supporting cast includes Virginia Bruce and Nick Foran. The second picture, "The Masked Rider," featuring Johnny Mack Brown, deals with a bandit gang which plunders and robs a silver mine in pioneer Mexico.

Westinghouse Club Wins City Softball Championship

Sport Podge by REX HESS

"Where can I get a golf lesson, but fast, and good?" panted tall Bruce McGinty, center of the Mansfield high school basketball team of two seasons ago.

"I gotta have one quick, and in the way it'll do the most good too," he explained. "My brother, Lt. Dave McGinty of the balloon barrage, is home on furlough, and he and my dad (Roy) have challenged me to a golf match on Saturday. And me, like a dope, I accept the challenge.

"And I've played only one round of golf in my life, and if I lose this match I'll never live it down. What am I gonna do?"

Sorry, Bub, I fear you're a little bit late for lessons.

McGinty recently was awarded a scholarship by Ohio Wesleyan university and expects to enter the Delaware school this fall. In fact he's all signed up.

And now he gets a letter from Lars Wagner, basketball and baseball coach of the Battling Bishops congratulating him on his choice of Ohio Wesleyan, and predicting that he'll be a big help to the Methodist cage club.

You can say that again, brother. Big Bruce picked up a lot of fancy tricks in the city league last winter.

Says Bill Snypp in the Lima News:

"Charleston's all-year position as first-place club in the Mid-Atlantic circuit can be traced largely to the performances of three former Ohio State leaguers, Catcher Ralph Weigel, and Pitchers Don Bayliss and Chuck Byers."

I hope, William, you are not forgetting Mansfield's Lefty Bob Irish Kuzava, whose 16th victory of the season for Charleston was a 7-0 victory over Erie on six hits. I'm not too sure, but I believe that was Lefty Bob's sixth shutout victory of the year.

Fremont's Freddie Gerken, the first sacker who acted as manager of the Green Sox on most of their road trips around the Ohio State league wheel last summer, is credited by Dayton sports writers with the greatest fielding play of the season in the Mad-A.

Dayton was leading Erie 1-0, and the Sailers had men on first and second with two out when the Erie batter smashed a hot grounder past the second baseman toward right field, which would have scored the tying run from second.

But Gerken, racing to his right, dived for the ball, skidded on his nose, but scooped the apple to the shortstop for a force play, ending the inning. And Dayton won, 1-0.

The way these Ohio Staters are tearing up the Mid-Atlantic, I'm beginning to believe we had a pretty fast league here last summer, after all.

COACH NAMED

KENT—(INS)—Joe Fortunato, a former Youngstown Rayen and Youngstown college gridder, today had been appointed coach at Kent State high school to succeed Perry Van Hyning, resigned to go into industry.

Barnes Manufacturing softballers scored a 2-1 victory last evening over Shelby Auto Call.

Get Seven Runs In Two Late-Inning Rallies

Take Third Victory of Series Over Ohio Public Service 11-7

WESTINGHOUSE today owns the city softball championship on a 3 and 1 victory basis in their city series with Ohio Public Service, chalking up the third win last evening before another big crowd at Johns park, 11 to 7.

The Westies' power at the plate proved the deciding factor as the new champs staged two late-inning rallies to overtake and pass the battling O. P. S. club.

But the deciding punch came from two unexpected sources. Pitcher Aid Geiger smacked a home run into the Johns park tennis court in the sixth inning, driving in two runs and tying up the ball game at 7-7.

And Freddie Lewis, who saw most of the game from the bench, scored the winning run in the eighth with a home run drive to the clubhouse in left center.

John Fike, Y. M. C. A. physical director, announced that individual medals have been presented to the champions, but that the team trophy, now on order, has not yet arrived.

Last night's game started out as a nip-and-tuck battle. Each team scored in the second inning, O. P. S. on a home run by Hazlett, and Westinghouse on a single, two walks, and a fly to center.

O. P. S. came back with three runs in the third, two of them scoring on wild pitches, but Westinghouse put four straight singles together for two markers in their half of the same frame, and tied it up in the fourth when Schaefer doubled and made the circuit on two wild pitches.

Two singles and three walks gave O. P. S. two more runs in the fifth and they added another in the sixth on Leiter's home run, to make it 7-4. That was the cue for Westinghouse to turn on the power.

Beery, leading off in the sixth, drew a walk, and scored on Bud Woerth's double, and Geiger lofted his circuit clout to the tennis courts to tie the score at 7-7.

With one down in the eighth, Lewis drove a long fly to left center which Oswalt lost in a group of spectators, and it rolled to the clubhouse for a home run and the deciding marker. But the Westies weren't through. Woerth's long fly to right center bounced out of Mapes' hands for a three-base error, and Geiger reached first on a bunt while Woerth held third. Forman singled two runs across the platter, and took second on the throw home. And Shade scored Forman with another single. That was enough.

Tribe Breaks Losing Streak

Hockett Clouts 3-Run Double In 9th Inning.

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Oris Hockett worked a cinema finish into the way he broke up his share of a batting slump which has plagued the Indians lately.

The freshman right fielder took an hour's batting practice before yesterday's game with the Tigers, and collected dividends in a fashion that had the customers groggy

Going into the last of the ninth inning, Detroit was leading 2-0 despite tight pitching by Jim Bagby, and the Tribe had acquired only four singles off Virgil Trucks—one of them by Hockett in the sixth.

Les Fleming opened by sending a fly to Barney McCosky, Manager Boudreau and Pinch Hitter Otto Denning walked, and Pinch Hitter Chubby Dean forced Denning for the second out. Al Milnar, batting for Bagby, won a pass to fill the bases, and young Jack Wilson came in to replace Trucks.

Hockett waited until the count was three and two, fouled off six fast pitches and then slammed a double off the right field screen. Milnar came in with the third and winning run to beat the relayed throw and the contest was over. Hockett was the only Indian to get two safeties, and his double was the Redskins' only extra-base hit.

The verdict ended Cleveland's losing streak at six games, and permitted the Tribe to gain half a game on the idle Boston Red Sox, who found their second place margin cut to one game. It was Bagby's 13th victory against five losses.

Detroit tallied an unearned run in the second inning on an error by Boudreau, between singles by Murray Franklin and Dixie Parsons. The other Tiger run came in the sixth, when Doc Cramer doubled and scored on outs by McCosky and Pinky Higgins.

The Indians were idle today but will be hosts tomorrow night to the St. Louis Browns.

BASKETBALL COACH NAMED BY ELYRIA

ELYRIA — (AP) — Paul Hoernemann, whose New Philadelphia high school basketball team won the state title in 1939-40 season, has been hired as head basketball coach and assistant football coach at Elyria high school.

Hoernemann, who graduated from Heidelberg college in 1938, succeeds Ralph F. Bauer, commissioned a first lieutenant in the Army Air Corps.

Elks Retain League Lead

Morgan-Byrnes Match Goes Four Extra Holes.

Elks maintained their two-point lead in the News-Journal "B" golf league at Possum Run last evening with a 2-1 win over Bissman's, while the second-place Tucker Furnitures were dropping a 2-3 decision to Central Fruit.

Tinkey Lumber edged Mansfield Printing 3-2, and Eagles and Moose split 1-1.

Highlight of the evening's play was the Jim Morgan-Maurice Byrnes match which went four extra holes before Morgan sank the winning putt. Wayne Anthony defeated Harry Fay in one extra hole.

Marion Ward took medal honors with a par 36, while V. H. Oberlander had a 38, and Wayne Anthony and Frank Lay 39's.

Public Links Field Filled

Toledo Golfers Round Out Tournament Lists.

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Ohio's 13th annual "off and on again" abbreviated public links golf championship, scheduled Sunday over the 36-hole medal play route at Toledo, is expected to attract a capacity field of 125 of the state's best pay-as-you-play club swingers.

Ray Pennell of Coumbus, secretary-treasurer of the state association, said today approximately 75 non-Toledo entrants had signed up, and that the tournament city would fill the field.

The meet, generally held over two days and 72 holes, was slashed to permit war industry employes to participate. All prizes will be in war stamps and bonds, while each player in the last two tournaments who now is in the armed services will receive a carton of cigarets.

The men's sector, with Dick Rhyan of Columbus defending the title, will be played over the Heather Downs course, while the women will play over the Ottawa Hills layout, first public course in America. Mrs. Thelma Linster of Mansfield won the title the last two years and will try to make it three in a row.

Only one Toledoan has ever won the publinks men's title, Jay Krochmalny taking it in 1938. Miss Neoma Copic, now a private club player from the Maumee city, won the first of the women's championships in 1939.

After being cancelled several weeks ago, the meet was revived on the abbreviated basis by Toledo district directors.

PROVIDENTS ADD TWO ELYRIA PLAYERS

Provident Loan girls have added two Elyria players. Pitcher Feist and Rover Nettleton to their squad for play in the state tournament starting today at Akson.

The Mansfield team, twice winners of the state title, is scheduled for its first game Saturday evening at 6 o'clock, but most of the team will leave for Akron today.

Birds Miss Chance At First Place

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Kansas City today continued to lead the American Association pack despite their 9-4 setback last night at the hands of the Louisville Colonels

The Columbus Red Birds, half a game behind the Blues, muffed a swell chance to take over top position when they lost, 6-4, to lowly St. Paul in a ten-inning contest. The game was tied at 3-all in the ninth, but the ineffective hurling of Relief Pitcher Ted Wilks and a dropped ball by Catcher Rae Blaemire in the tenth, proved the undoing of the Birds.

The losses by the two league leaders permitted a tightening of the AA race, however.

Milwaukee, edging Indianapolis, 6-4, slipped to one game out of first place and the "you wanna watch 'em" Toledo Mud Hens won their sixth straight game and the 11th in the last 12 starts when they copped from Minneapolis, 6-5, the Hens are in fourth place, only two full games behind the leading Blues.

BEN HOGAN SHOOTS SIX UNDER PAR

ROCHESTER — (INS) — Ben Hogan, golf's leading money winner, today had a strangle hold on first prize in the $5,000 "Times-Union" open today.

Hogan shot a six-under-par 64 in the opening round yesterday, four strokes better than his nearest opponent, Sam Byrd, the ex-baseball player.

COMMISSIONED

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — A commission as a lieutenant commander in the U. S. Naval Reserve has been given to Carl Olsen, 49-year-old track coach of the University of Pittsburgh and president of the National Track Coaches' association. A native of Ashtabula, O., he will report at Newport, R. I., Sept. 9.

Bean-Ballers Battle Again

New National Loop Rule Tested In Double Bill.

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The National league's new rule making managers subject to an automatic fine of $200 for permitting their pitchers to blaze away at a rival's noggin is due for the acid test today when the Brooklyn Dodgers and the Boston Braves collide in a doubleheader opening a five-game series.

It will be their first meeting since they spent last Saturday afternoon rocking each other's high inside pitches—an exercise that is good for the legs if executed with speed but bad for the head if it isn't.

League President Ford Frick fined Manuel Salvo of the Braves $50 and Brooklyn's Whitlow Wyatt $75 for participating in the "duster" duel and warned pitchers that they also would be fined in the future along with the managers. It cost Wyatt an extra $25 to throw his bat at Salvo.

"If other pitchers throw at our players," said Brooklyn President Larry MacPhail in discussing the new league rule, "we'll give them two for one, and I don't care whether it costs $20 or $400."

So, with Manager Leo Durocher of the Dodgers backed by MacPhail's bankroll, it is to be assumed that Professor Casey Stengel of the Braves will have his checkbook handy today in case a few well chosen pitches stray too near the region reserved for a batter's cranium.

Postponement of yesterday's bill at Ebbets Field was one of four which left the major league card with only three completed contests.

In the only one in the National league, the Chicago Cubs walloped the St. Louis Cardinals, 13-5, to drop the second-place Red Birds eight and a half games behind the Dodgers.

In the American league, the Cleveland Indians came from behind in the ninth inning to edge out the Detroit Tigers, 3-2, and the St. Louis Browns crushed the Chicago White Sox, 8-3.

American league games between Boston and New York and Washington and Philadelphia, and a National league affair between Cincinnati and Pittsburgh all were postponed.

ONE GAME PLAYED

ZANESVILLE — (AP) — Springfield defeated Zanesville 6 to 4 in the Mid-Atlantic league's only game last night. The Dayton-Canton contest was postponed.

Tennis Tourney Planned

News-Journal Promotes City Championships.

URGED by members of the Mansfield Tennis association to repeat its city tennis championship of last year, The News-Journal has decided to conduct the tournament after checking over the situation and discovering that enough interest apparently exists to make the project worth while.

Earlier it had been felt that the number of Mansfield tennis players entering the armed services and defense work outside the city had so depleted the ranks of Mansfield racquet swingers that a tournament this year would hardly draw enough entries to make it worth the effort.

However the situation appears to have improved in recent weeks. The Woodland tennis club is now holding its tournament, with 12 players in the lists. Five matches scheduled for this week-end will bring the tournament down to the finals, booked for the following week-end.

Woodland netters are expected to form a nucleus for at least a 16-player draw in men's singles.

Increased play this summer on the improved Maple Lakes courts has aroused interest in women's and junior play for girls and boys, and there is now the prospect of a fairly good tournament.

No entry fee will be charged in the men's division this year because of the uncertainty of the number entering. Last year the entry fee was used to buy balls, which, after use in the men's tournament, were donated to the junior tournament for further play. This year it will be necessary for all players to be prepared to furnish balls for each match, and to arrange with their opponents for the financial settlement on balls.

Junior divisions have an 18-year age limit, but players entering the boys' and girls' tourneys may also enter the senior divisions. If there are any players in two tournaments, an effort will be made to schedule matches so that they will not be a physical burden on the young players.

Originally plans were drawn up for only singles competition. Now there appears to be a demand for men's doubles, and a doubles tournament will be staged if enough entries are obtained. Men interested in doubles should attach a note to that effect to the tournament entry blank which will be found elsewhere on this page.

Entries close Monday night, and pairings will be made Tuesday afternoon for announcement in The News-Journal Wednesday. Play will start the following week-end.

Maple Lake courts, which have been placed in fine condition this summer, will be used for most of the tournament matches in all divisions. However where Woodland members meet each other in preliminary matches, they will be scheduled on their home court. Woodland players also have offered the use of their court for other players in the event the schedule piles up.

Because of the late start of this year's tournament, it will be necessary to run it off in two weeks time, or as nearly as possible to that limit. This should have the effect of keeping interest at a high pitch throughout the tournament.

Ken Meets Shocker In J. A. C. Prelim Bout.

Kenny Krupp, Mansfield high school football and basketball star of the past school year, will appear in one of the four-round preliminary bouts on the J. A. C. boxing show at the armory next Wednesday night, it was announced today.

The powerfully muscled Krupp, who has been keeping in shape this summer working at the Empire Steel plant, will meet Herm Shocker, hard-hitting Mansfield scrapper who is due for army induction in the next few weeks.

Heading the J. A. C. card will be Paul Carbetta, former Cleveland Golden Gloves and Mansfield flyweight champion, and Carl Nestel, New York state featherweight, now fighting out of Cleveland. They are booked for 10 rounds.

A six-round semi-final and four four-rounders complete the card.

Indians Buy Two Players

Get Bargain In Pair Of Oriole Infielders.

CLEVELAND—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians today announced purchase of two outstanding minor league infielders — First Baseman Eddie Robinson and Second Baseman Ted Sczepkowski of Baltimore. They will report to the Tribe Sept. 7 or Sept. 15, depending on whether Baltimore gets into the International league playoff.

Roger Peckinpaugh, Indians' vice president, said the deal was completed under Cleveland's working agreement with Baltimore, which provided the Tribe could acquire any two Orioles at a cost of $10,000 each.

"We're probably getting $100,000 worth of ball players," Peckinpaugh said. "Robinson has been one of the sensations of that league all summer and no doubt would bring $50,000 on the open market. Frank Shaughnessy, the president of the International league, was quoted last week as calling Sczepkowski a $50,000 prospect."

* * *

Robinson, 21-year-old native of Valdosta, Ga., has been batting around .304. He played with Elmira last year. Sczepkowski isn't batting .300 but Shaughnessy has called him "the greatest 18-year-old player I have ever seen." He is a native of Baltimore.

UNEVEN PRICES SHADE TRENDS IN STOCK MART

Retail Trade Shows Spotty Improvement, But Drops Away Generally.

NEW YORK—Prices of stock market leaders were slightly uneven in today's early transactions.

Up fractionally at a quiet opening were U. S. Rubber, Sperry, Cerro De Pasco, Loew's, Montgomery Ward, Texas Co and Pan American Airways. Small losses were posted for U. S. Steel, General Electric, Goodrich, Yellow Truck, Republic Steel and Pennsylvania.

Merchandising shares came in for further study in the light of the Dun & Bradstreet survey which disclosed that, while there was some pickup in business here and there this week, retail sales for the country as a whole were 7 to 14 per cent under the comparable period last year.

The Federal Reserve board, at the same time, confirmed the recessionary purchasing trend by estimating department store dollar volume for the week ended Aug. 8 at 5 per cent below the like 1941 week. Largest declines were in New York and Cleveland.

Books For Children

(Available at Mansfield Public Library)

A story for older girls and a book of etiquette will be added this week to the display of reviewed books in the Mansfield Public library's children's department. The story is a new one telling of a girl's experiences while operating a bake shop.

BREAD AND BUTTER, by Marjory Hall—Laura Lou's friends were going to college or had jobs away from home, but she was just waiting until her mother would have time to help her to open The Bake Shop. She found many things she could do herself to decorate it attractively and her friends helped. By the time her bakery was ready to open she found an annoying competition and nightly intruders as well. The solution of the difficulties opens a new opportunity and makes this story another present-day favorite for junior high age girls.

WHAT IS SHE LIKE? by Mary Brockhan — The author of this book has collected the material from her work with high school girls. Its advice will be helpful to any older girls who are interested in the impressions they are making and in their own happiness and good health.

The belles and beaux of yesterday will hold forth in the Gay Nineties revue to be staged at South Park pavilion at 8:30 p. m. today as the final production of the Children's theater workshop season. The above contingent that has been going about town the past week in a car of ancient vintage will be seen in the melodrama and minstrel show highlighting the production. The two young ladies in front left to right, are Jeannie Kroegher and Carol Ann Thompson. Doris Alverson is the umbrella girl and Claudia Marks is shown to the right in the rear row. Seated, left to right are Sigrid Meisse, Bettie Gibson and Harvey Todd.

MANSFIELD NEWS IN BRIEF

Reunion Sunday—The 37th annual reunion of the Pugh-Pifer families will be staged Sunday at South park with a basket picnic dinner at noon, Wilbur Pifer, chairman, announced today.

Plan Reunion—Members of the Kochheiser family will hold their annual reunion at South park Sunday. The reunion will start with a luncheon served at noon and will be followed by an afternoon of sports and recreation.

Posts Bond — Charged with speeding on U. S. Route 42 last night, Albert Rose of Cleveland posted $16.30 bond and waived appearance in municipal court today. He was arrested by state highway patrolmen.

Held For Investigation — A Springville, N. Y., resident is being held for investigation by Mansfield police in regard to an attempt to cash a check in several local shoe stores yesterday. He was carrying a 32-caliber revolver, police said.

Homecoming Set — The annual reunion of the Hiller school will be held Sunday at the school, one mile south of Five Points on the Ashland road, W. N. VanDyke, arrangement committee member, said today. A basket picnic dinner will be served at noon.

Closes Dump—Because of hazardous driving conditions created at the city dump near the Mansfield Sewage Treatment plant by excavation for scrap steel, the dump will be closed daily from 7 p. m. until 7 a. m., and on Sunday as a safety measure. Fred B. Wolff, city service-safety director, issued the order today.

Get Promotions — Seven Mansfield American Legion Cadets received promotions last night at drill exercises at the Armory grounds. Promoted to sergeant's rank were Jerry Snyder, John Clever, David Hollingsworth, and David Sweet. William Waibel was moved up to a corporal and "Bud" Tuttle and Alex Demyon to first class privates.

Orders Dogs Tied—Police ordered dogs belonging to residents at 156 Marion avenue and 431 Parker street tied for 10 days after a man and an 11-year-old boy were bitten yesterday. Roy Roadpouch, 458 North Mulberry street, was bitten while walking on Marion avenue, and Garry Close, 11, 319 Vennum avenue, was bitten while riding a bicycle on Parker street.

FOUR INJURED

Fog Blamed for Two Mishaps Near Mansfield.

A dense fog early this morning was blamed in a large measure for causing two accidents on Mansfield area highways in which four persons were injured, none believed seriously.

Adam Freiheit, 19, of 324 Central avenue, was treated at General hospital last night for a cut on the forehead received in a collision on State Route 13, two and a half miles north of Mansfield. State highway patrolmen said Freiheit was riding in a car driven by John J. Hoff, 19, of 589 Springmill street, which struck the rear of another operated by Russell F. Humbert, 37, of Mansfield R. D. 2 as Humbert was making a turn from the highway.

Three persons escaped with only cuts and bruises early this morning as their car rolled over after colliding with another vehicle on U. S. Route 42. Treated at General hospital and released were Willam L. McQueary, 21, and Elsie Sherwood, both of Perry, O., and James McQueary, 19, of New Richmond.

State highway patrolmen said that their car, driven by William L. McQueary, hit another operated by Nathan Lawson, 45, of Cleveland, four miles north of Mansfield on U. S. Route 42. The McQueary auto, which then turned over several times, was a total wreck.

jumps until a maximum rate of 50 per cent tax would be reached on spendings of $45,000 or over for single persons or $90,000 or more for married couples.

To compute the spendings, Fisher said gross receipts from all sources should be totalled and certain specific deductions subtracted. The most essential of those deductions, he declared, would be business expenses and reinvestments, taxes and reasonable deductions for dependents.

Declaring that "taxation is being overdone," Fisher predicted that his plan would offer incentives to buy government bonds, "which in fact could be made compulsory more easily than at present."

The Power of the Press Stays In These Cool Suits.

Lots of cool suits wrinkle like a RAISIN. Takes a lot of pressing to keep them in shape.

These cool suits . . . thanks to the materials . . . stay in press.
